We wish to gratefully acknowledge the assistance that we have received from many sources and family histories. In particular we wish to acknowledge such sources as: "Glasgow's History of the Reformed Presbyterian Church in America" and "Owen Thompson's Sketches of the Ministers." Also we have been very fortunate in having access to such family records as "George Manton Tippin and his Descendants" by Dr. Ernest E. Tippin, the Shearer-Wise family edited by B. H. Shearer, the "Ochiltree Family" loaned to us by Myra Kuhn, the "Walkinshaw-Reed Family" and the McElhinney family tree loaned by Mrs. Harry Hutcheson, the Compilations of Mrs. Mae Hughes on both the Robert and Catherine Conner Wilson family and the Robert McLeod Willson family. There are also two books edited on smaller sections of the Willson family: the "McGinness-Scott Families and Their Branches" loaned by Rev. J. K. Robb, and the "Scott-White and Related Families of Western Pennsylvania" sent by the editor George Wilson Scott.

The artistic drawing of the Willson Family tree was made by Mrs. Marjorie (Robert) McClure, and the photos were furnished by the Donald Honeyman and Forrest Talbott families, for which we are very grateful.

We thank the editor, Mr. James Hodges. for his untiring efforts to help us assemble the material in this first volume of the Willson Family Tree.

FOREWORD

THIS history and genealogy of the double LL Willson family and descendants was collected by many cousins through the centuries. Among those mentioned as copying portions of this record are Zaccheus Gass Willson, James Phinehas Willson, Surgeon in the rebel army, the son of William Moore Willson who copied from John Aaron Willson's Bible (E6 under Aaron D4). Robert Renwick Henderson, for the Robert McLeod Willson family, and Mrs. Mae Hughes, Dr. J. R. Willson, Dr. Susan Wiggins and her parents, Susan and James Wiggins, notebook of 1858, James Reynolds Willson and his daughter, Mrs. Lois Honeyman, Mrs. Bessie Whigham, E. Raymond Wilson, who copied on wrapping paper, Thomas Hensleigh, who copied in notebook 1902, and many others. Nearly always there was one in each of the several families that contributed. Gwendolyn Wilson and Mary Elizabeth Taylor have helped with typing. It has been compiled by Mrs. J. Ralph Wilson in 1955.

The data for this history has been gathered from family Bibles, from inscriptions in cemeteries, by letters and word of mouth from those descendants acquainted with the facts regarding their own branch of the family. In some instances we consulted the session book of Sharon Reformed Presbyterian church, Morning Sun, Iowa.

It is as nearly correct as possible to secure, but allowance must be made for possible errors in typing, printing or inability to remember all dates correctly. But on the whole it is considered authentic and correct.

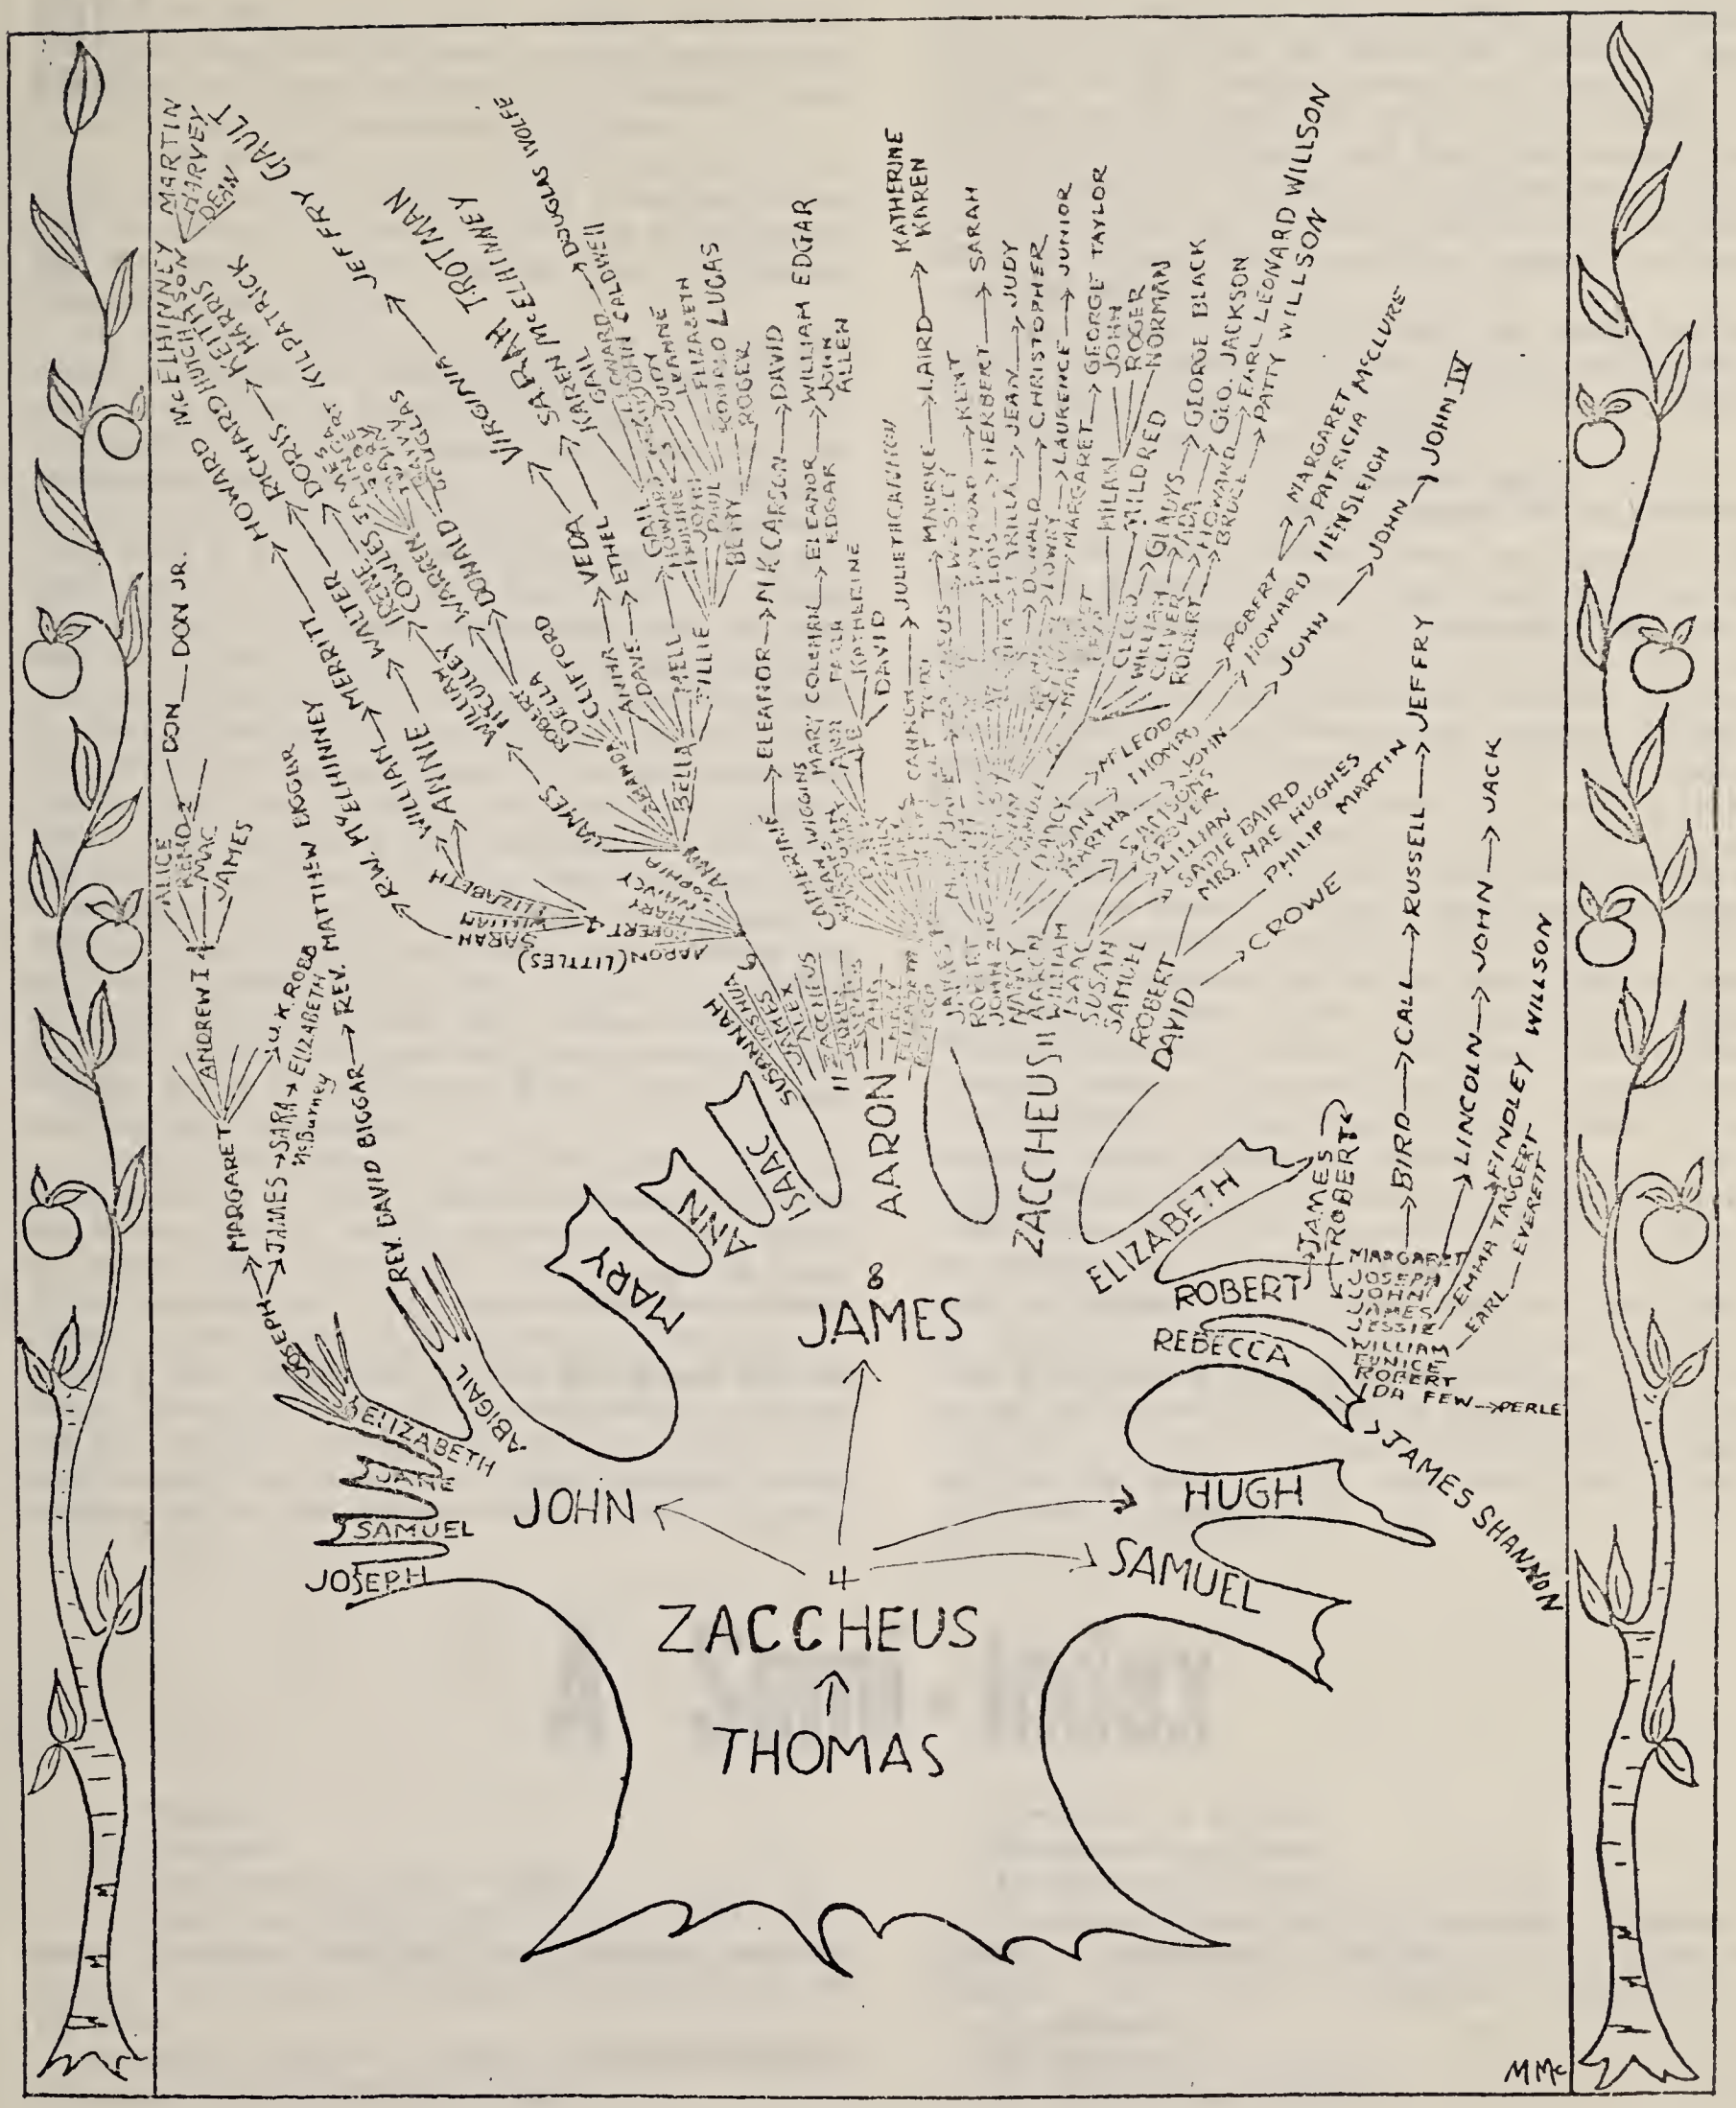
We offer no apologies for apparently slighting some families, while others, no more worthy of attention, are treated more fully. The lack of response to requests for information compelled us to be brief. We acknowledge the work and commend the many "cousins" whose invaluable assistance has enabled us to compile these records and preserve them in permanent form for future generations.

(A) This geneology begins with Thomas Willson who is given the letter A. His son, Zaccheus, is given the letter B. His four sons are given the letter C indicating third generation. Letter D indicates fourth generation and E fifth generation, and on down to twelfth generation L under Aaron (D4).

(B) Figures used in front of the names of children as 1, 2, 3, indicate the chronological order.

First there is a semi-index, in which is given an incomplete and brief summary of the families of the four sons, John, James, Samuel and Hugh. An index of all names appearing in the book is included in the back.

THE FOUR SONS OF ZACCHEUS



A FINAL NOTE ABOUT THIS BOOK

THIS family tree looked innocent scrawled upon four pieces of brown wrapping paper always stowed away somewhere in our house or borrowed by Aunt Lois Honeyman on occasion.

In 1947 we looked at it longingly and said if we could only bring the section of our immediate family (E3) Zaccheus up to date it would be a big undertaking. We began in earnest, but the death of Wallace interrupted the attempt.

In 1954 Aunt Lois and I sent out 150 letters to that section to receive the names of the new members. Besides those I mailed hundreds of letters to all the descendants I knew or could hear of their addresses of his ten brothers and sisters or to all the (E's) under Zaccheus and Mary. In January, 1955, Anna Hensleigh Kennedy gave us a notebook of Willson history that had been kept by her father. Mrs. Mae Hughes, St. Louis, had worked on (E10) and corresponded with me since 1951, but in 1954 we wrote oftener, first about her section, then about the larger relationship. Yesterday, Sept. 21, 1955, in response to a card from me that we would use "the Robert section" based on her search of Rev. Cuthbertson's list of baptisms, she sent me a telegram saying "Am sending Willson material, hope it isn't too late", so we have (D7) Robert, though we know that he dropped one of the l's in his name. In a clipping of Findley Wilson's about his father, James Wilson, son of Robert Willson (D7) he states that he is a relative of James Renwick Willson (E1) famous Chaplain of the War of 1812. This James R. is the ancestor of Burt Willson. So we use this Robert Willson material based on these two authorities.

This summer when my daughter Gwendolyn was helping me try to build a tree on wallpaper to use as an exhibit for the family reunion, she came across the name in the John section (C1) of Andrew Irwin Robb. She asked me if this could be Rev. Remo Robb's father. I said I didn't think so, but it wouldn't hurt to spend a three cent stamp to find out. Remo referred me to his uncle J. K. Robb, St. Joseph, Mich., who sent me the additional material, so the John section grew this summer, for they have a book published about their section in 1892. We have taken out only a skeleton of the names with dates, but they have published much material about the Civil War records of their relatives in this McGinness-Scott book which Rev. J. K. Robb kindly loaned me. He is much interested in his section of the family, and has always known that he was related to the Rev. J. R. Willson. One error in that book states that Elizabeth Willson Scott is a sister of J. R. Willson, but as we have traced it, we find they are cousins instead.

One reason we could connect the Aaron Willson family of the Cedar Falls, Iowa, section was that they had in their possession a picture of this J. R. Willson whom they knew was a minister.

Gratefully yours,
Mrs. J. Ralph Wilson (Martha)

P.S. We have wondered what our connection to President Woodrow Wilson might have been, for he said his grandmother was a Covenanter. This bit of Willson history came from a cousin in California. The Coat of Arms or the Willson Emblem had an eagle over a shield bearing three stars, "Semper Vigilans" engraved below, and Willson below that. This explanation accompanies the drawing: The name "Wilson" was Williams in the beginning. Rev. John Wilson, one of the earliest settlers in this country was the son of Rev. William Wilson of England. He came to America on Gov. Winthrope's fleet and was minister of the first church of Boston. He died in 1667. One that came later was a soldier in the Continental army. James Wilson (Woodrow's father) came from County Down, Ireland, which is the same location in Ireland that our Thomas Willson came from. Mrs. Maud Joseph Smith, Hopkinton, Iowa, said her husband's Wilson family tree who claim relation to President Wilson, also claim relation to the martyr. Margaret Willson, who we think is our Thomas' sister, perhaps. In August, 1955, we met Lloyd McClung family in Lexington, Kentucky, whose Willson ancestor, Colonel John Willson, born in northern Ireland, 1701, emigrated to America and settled in Penn. about the year 1739, and died 1773. He came to Augusta Co., Virginia in 1742. We would like to claim these fine Willson's but have no further proof.

Early Willson History

THE EARLIEST research into the history of the Willson family that we know of was made by Zaccheus G. Willson, son of John Z. and Nancy McConnell Willson in 1858. He got his material from his father, grandfather, and uncle, Rev. James R. Willson, D.D. He regretted that our forefathers had left no written records.

In Iowa, 1858, he has this paragraph to introduce his history: "I take this opportunity now as I have some leisure to take some notes relating to the History of the Willson Family. I have a good opportunity to collect facts from my father who is now seventy-four years old and retaining all his mental faculties in full vigor. Some of the history was obtained verbally, so part is traditionary and consequently mixed with fables."

"The name Willson originated in Scotland, and may have been from the Gaelic language, the language spoken in Northern Scotland and almost the same as the ancient Celtic McQuidlam or McWilliam, is a very old name in Scotland. Mac means son—and may have been changed to William—contracted to Will and son added. During the persecution in Scotland in the Seventeenth Century some Willsons who were opposed to the intolerance of the Roman apostacy and who did not fail to lift their voice against oppression were driven from their homes and took refuge in Ireland. Thomas Willson and his wife, whose name was Cathcart, whom we claim as our progenitors came to Ireland sometime in the Sixteenth Century (Susan thinks it should say 17th 1680-1700) and settled in the county Down, Ireland, Tounland of Newry, near the Mourne Mountains. From this stock almost all of the Willsons of Ireland have descended. They are now scattered through—(the pages are lost from this to the 9th page). On page 9 he begins the history of John's family, or rather continues it.

"This Thomas Willson may have been a brother of Martyr Margaret Willson, but there seems to be no proof of this, except that she had a brother Thomas Willson", from Susan's notes.

The first one of our family who came to this country was Zaccheus Willson from Rosstrevor, Ireland about 1713, and settled in the Cove, Franklin County, Pennsylvania.

WILLSONS IN PENNSYLVANIA

THIS history is taken from Mrs. Susan Wiggins' notebook, part of which she wrote while visiting near Morning Sun in 1892, and she had access to material that had been written in 1858 by Zaccheus Gass Willson. This is what he wrote:

"In the year 1769 in the spring James Willson and Zaccheus his son came west of the Allegheny mountains and made a settlement in the Forks of Yough, cleared a small field and planted corn, and then returned over the mountains. They came back in the fall and harvested the corn, when they again crossed over the mountains. In the spring of 1770 the family removed to the new home in the western wilderness, where they encountered all the trials, incident to a frontier life. The Forks, as it is technically called is the district of country, between the Monongahela and Youghiogheny rivers. These form a junction at McKeesport, eight miles above Pittsburgh. The country is very hilly and at the time our Fathers came there, hills and valleys were one vast interminable forest of oak, sugar, beech, walnut and other trees, the thick underbrush on the hills overgrown with wild-peavines, rendering it almost impossible to penetrate the dark dense woods. This tract of country is beautifully diversified with hills and dales — abundantly supplied with pure water, flowing from the thousands of living springs from the rocky mountain sides. The soil is very fertile, well adapted to the growth of all cereal grains. It was certainly a great undertaking for our fathers to leave an old settled country and cast their lot in this wilderness, where no human sound could be heard save the war-whoop of the savage. They were now right in the heart of the lands of the Mingoes and other savage tribes. The whole country was in a very unsettled state. Only fifteen years had passed since the defeat of Braddock and his forces by the French and the Indians, fourteen miles below this settlement near the mouth of Turtle Creek, and just now preparations were making for the long sanguinary struggle of the Revolution. The savages had been much embittered against the settlers in many places, on account of the old French war. Consequently settling in a place inhabited solely by the Indians, without protection, was extremely hazardous, yet our adventurous fathers braved these dangers, and with the axe and rifle, the mighty instruments in pioneer life, they cleared an opening in the forest, and protected themselves against the fierce denizins of the woods — wild beasts and savage Indian. Often while sitting on these hills, I have thought of the times, nearly one hundred years ago, long before the present generation came into existence, when this lonely family in the forest, almost like Noah on the flood of waters, lived on the hillside, in their lowly log cabin, with a small clearing — enough to let the sunlight shine upon the ground through those towering oaks, huge stumps blackened by fire, almost touching each other, the ground charred in places by the fire, where log heaps had been piled and burned and in the edges of the clearing huge brush-heaps, not yet burned serving as a resting place for the thieving squirrels, and partly for the purpose of fences to protect the field from deer and other animals, that at night would eat up the young corn, if not shielded.

Just picture to yourself, the cabin in that lonely spot, which then contained the ancestors of a prolific, restless race, destined to spread from the eastern coast to the Pacific—from the lakes to the gulf—and were to exert an influence more or less on this great western continent both in church and state. There stood that cabin in an ocean of timber, out of sight and hearing of any other. The occupants were truly sons of toil. The first dawn of light would reveal the curling smoke from the stick chimney, while within the brave-hearted mother and her blooming, robust daughters hastily prepared the simple morning meal. No luxury was there, none you palefaced, whaleboned, ribboned, laced, starched, ruffled, flowered, crinolined, bedizened daughters of ease, but well developed, blooming healthy daughters of the forest, who could if necessary, swing an axe, or handle a rifle. (Smile not, these were our grandmothers.) While thus engaged in preparing the frugal meal of corn, pork or hominy, wild fowl, bear meat or venison, in the wide-mouthed fire place in iron skillets, and griddles, on a pile of burning logs, (cooking stoves and utensils were not thought of) — the men were preparing for the day's work — these hardy, bronze-faced sons of the forest feared neither sun nor rain, savage or wild beast. Before going to their daily toil, the whole family would assemble for family worship, for even in that western wilderness an altar had been erected to the true God, to the same God, that had conducted and watched over Abraham when traveling in a strange land after leaving Father, Mother and kindred, and their voices united in praising Him in the songs (Psalms) of inspiration — a chapter in the Bible was read and all kneeled in prayer to Him. After which, these pioneers go forth, some to the field with implements of husbandry, while others with dog and gun enter the dark forest, in quest of bears, deer, and other wild animals that were used as articles of food. Soon the well known sound of axe, swung by strong hands is heard, thick and fast the heavy strokes descend and the great chips fly in all directions, when presently a terrible crash, resounding over hill and hollow, and cause the earth to tremble as it strikes the solid ground and echoes far and wide proclaim that a monarch of the woods, that has held undisputed sway on the hillside for a thousand years, lies low. While ever and anon the sharp crack of the rifle is heard in some deep valley or almost inaccessible hillside, followed by the barking of deer, and the fierce growling of a wounded bear that, savage in its agony produced by a mortal wound from the unerring instrument of death — rears on its hind feet and makes at the hunter who stands fearlessly watching the approach of his dark antagonist with a sharp knife gleaming in his hand. His faithful dog is tugging at the hip of the wounded animal; the keen eye of the hunter watches every motion of the animal as he staggers toward him, when he adroitly, as with electric swiftness, strikes the sharp knife to the hilt, in the heart of his victim which gives a few low growls, and with jaws expanded rolls over dead. The hunter for a moment surveys the huge proportions of the shaggy monster, and then dextrously divests him of his skin. The flesh is carried home for family use, and the skin for caps, coats or bed-covers, which in the meantime is hung to dry in the cabin along with many of its fellows, also innumerable skins of deer, panthers, wolf, fox, etc., that ornament the inner walls of the cabin, as so many trophies of the hunter's prowess. Over the fireplace, great buck horns stand out with their branching antlers, forming stout, secure resting places for the guns; on which hang leathern pouches containing the powder and lead bullet moulds, flints, patches etc. (Percussion caps were not then invented.) In the evening the wearied woodsman returns with his axe on his shoulder, the hunters gather, and as the sun sinks behind the western trees, the tinkle of the cowbell is heard in the adjoining thickets, as old Brindle winds along the path homeward from the woods. Before nightfall, all the calves, lambs and pigs are secure from the prowling wolves and other carnivorous beasts, that abound in the woods. As it became dark, those animals roamed abroad for their prey, the bark of the wolf, the scream of the panther could be heard from the cabin while the great owl boo-hooed and the Indians shouted and danced around the camp fires.

Such were some of the features of pioneer life as our fathers and mothers experienced it nearly one hundred years ago, and the picture is not the least overdrawn. This place was the nursery where our family was reared and many hundreds have gone forth from this solitary hillside, and mixed with the living world in probably every state of this Union. Many were the dangers, which surrounded the inmates of this solitary cabin. They endured trials, of which we know nothing—separated from their friends in the east by rugged precipitous mountains that were almost impassible—not traversed by any regular road, but only by Indian paths, winding torturously frem mountain to mountain. They were thus cut off by these mountain barriers—separated by near 300 miles from their former home. All farming utensils were brought over the mountains and for many years these together with salt were packed on horses all this distance." End of history in Notebook. They would think we were telling fairy tales, if they knew their grandchildren would drive tractors instead of horses, ride airplanes, and automobiles, use electricity to cook their meals, freeze their food, sweep their rugs, milk the cows, wash the dishes, wash the clothes, read by, hear with on the radio and see with on the television. Perhaps the use of atomic power will be as great an improvement for our grandchildren.

THE FIRST COVENANTERS

CONDENSED from Glasgow's "History of the Reformed Presbyterian Church in America". The first Covenanters to come west of the Allegheny Appalachian Mountains were James Willson and his son Zaccheus, who left the Cove in the Cumberland Valley in the spring of 1769, cleared a little patch in the "Forks of the Yough, planted corn there, then returned to their house in the Cove. They came back early in 1770 with their families and some other friends and made permanent homes in the Forks. The small town that soon grew there was called Elizabeth and the whole region was the "Forks of the Yough; this bordered by the Monongahela and Youghiogheny rivers for some distance above their junction. The region was hilly and heavily timbered but farming was leading occupation. The neighbors formed a praying society. Rev. John Cuthbertson made a tour of the whole region in 1779 and on Sabbath preached in a tent on the farm of Zaccheus Willson. The next Sabbath he preached at another home and baptized several children, among them James, son of Aaron Willson. According to his diary, among the twenty-two families he named were Zaccheus, James, Josiah and Aaron Willson. (Aaron Willson was the ancestor of the McCulleys, Mrs. Belle McElhinney and Mrs. Neil Kilpatrick. We could not find where Josiah Willson belonged. Zaccheus is the grandfather of Rev. James R. Willson, D D, Isaac, David T., Robert and John Zaccheus Willson, whose families we have tried to follow out, in the Zaccheus section of the Family Tree.)

All of these families went into the Associate Reformed church in 1782, but Zaccheus Willson and some others returned to the Covenanter Church under the preaching of Rev. John Black, 1799-1801. The congregation was organized in 1801 with James Finney and Zaccheus Willson, ruling elders. The first communion was held in 1802. Rev. William Gibson was pastor for many years and the congregation grew so rapidly it was divided several times. From 1834-1865 Rev. John Crozier was pastor and was greatly loved by the Willson's who did not leave Elizabeth until 1852. Other families related to more or fewer of our family were the Mitchells related to the Hutchesons, and Parkhills and Elliotts related to John E. and Samuel E. Wilson, and McConnells related to all of us.

FIRST HISTORY

THIS paragraph was quoted in the United Presbyterian, June 29, 1939. "The Covenanters who came to America were sturdy men and fearless women, some with the scars of prison chains on their wrists, or the red stain of branding irons on their cheeks, others who had given up pleasant homes and of education and position—exiles, because they dared to believe that there was a King greater than the tyrants who sat on Britain's throne. They were here because they believed that every individual had a right to his or her own soul, had a right to worship God according the dictates of his or her conscience. These were the men and women who built that old stone church in the wilderness. The first members of the R P church who came to America, were exiled by the British Government, as Russia recently exiled her strugglers after liberty to Siberia, and France sent her worst criminals to Devil's Island. On Sept. 5, 1685, England took from jail 125 of those old Reformed and Associate Presbyterians and shipped them to America as criminals because they placed Jesus above a corrupt king. Twenty-five, including their two preachers and their wives, and the laird and his wife, died at sea. Many others settled along our eastern shore from Canada to South Carolina. One or two ministers who came died. For long years they sent pathetic appeals to Scotland for ministers. But none would face the hardship of such a work.

After 22 years two Associate Presbyterians and one Reformed Presbyterian arrived. The last, John Cuthbertson, was addicted to the habit of keeping a diary. From it we learn almost all we know of the early struggles. He arrived in 1751 and made Octoraro the center of his work. That old diary still exists. It is one of the most precious possessions in the historic treasures kept in the safe of the Pittsburg-Xenia Seminary. There we learn that for 40 years, 22 years of which he was the only Reformed Presbyterian minister in America, he rode on horseback over the whole Atlantic coast from Canada to South Carolina, seeking the people of our faith and ministering to them. His diary shows that he traveled over 70,000 miles through the unbroken forests or sparsely settled sections, swimming swollen rivers, sleeping with the Indians in their tepees, traveling with trappers and scouts, always seeking to lead them to Jesus. His work was immeasurable and unprecedented. He remained pastor of the Octoraro church until death. Buried in the old cemetery. Archibald Burns, uncle of the Scottish poet, married the sister of John Cuthbertson. Their son, Hon. John Burns, died at age 104, unnaturally strong for one so old. He presided at a great public meeting after his 100th year.

GLASGOW HISTORY

Glasgow's history: Rev. Alexander Craighead, N. Car. disseminated the Covenanter church principles among the Scotch-Irish Presbyterians of the community. The consequence was the 1st Declaration of Independence, May 1775, a year or more previous to the National Declaration. All Covenanters were Whigs. Mr. Bancroft says: "The first public voice in America for dissolving all connection with Great Britain came not from the Puritans of New England, the Dutch of New York, nor the Planters of Virginia, but from the Scotch-Irish Presbyterians of the Carolinas." He evidently refers to the influence of Rev. Alexander Craighead and the Mecklenberg Declaration and this influence was due to the meeting of the Covenanters of Octoraro, where in 1743, they denounced in a public manner the policy of George the Second, renewed the Covenants, and swore with uplifted swords that they would defend their lives and their property against all attack and confiscation, and their consciences should be kept free from the tyrannical burden of Episcopacy. The Octoraro meeting was the original germ of American independence which was transplanted in Charlotte and then in Philadelphia.

More than this. Thomas Jefferson says in his autobiography, that when he was engaged in preparing the National Declaration . . . . that the Octoraro printed proceedings and the Mecklenberg Declaration (signed by Zaccheus Willson) were before him, and he used freely the ideas. No doubt this accounts for the similarity of expressions in the two documents. Sometimes it does happen that the discoveror or the inventor does not enjoy the right which should be bestowed upon him. . . . . The Declaration of Independence was right, but the Constitution of the United States was wrong in not recognizing God, or Christ or the Bible. All power and ability civil rulers have are from Christ the Prophet of the Covenant."

WILLSON FAMILY TREE

A—Thomas Willson married Catherine Cathcart. They fled from Scotland during the "killing time" (in the 1680's). They went to the town of Newry, County Down, Ireland. He is supposed to have had four sons, John, James, Samuel and Hugh. These same names are listed as sons of Zaccheus, the founder of the Willson family in this country.

B1—Zaccheus Willson

Zaccheus Willson, probably son or possibly grandson of Thomas. He came with his son John from Rosstrevor Ireland, County Down, near the head of Carlingford Lough, a deep bay, and settled in Franklin County about 1730, and about 1750 removed to the Cove valley, a little west of the Blue Ridge, and some twenty-five miles from Chambersburgh. They migrated to the region of the Yough, in western Pennsylvania in 1769. Founded the town of Willson now spelled Wilson.

Children:

C1—John Willson (Remo Robb's ancestor)

C2—James Willson (our ancestor and Rev. JR's. Findley Wilson's and Walter Hutcheson's.)

C3—Hugh Willson, 1723, dwelt near Milton, Pa.

C4—Samuel Willson

Hugh and Samuel Willson moved to South Carolina. No record has been found of them with any certainty. There is a tradition that their descendants were large slaveholders. Glasgow's History, p. 394, "Willson is listed among the members of Little Rocky Creek congregation near Winnsboro, South Carolina." August, 1955 in McNabb, Ill., we met Willsons and Wilsons who settled there in 1851, members of Friends church. One woman whose father and mother were Wilson's and she married a Willson told us that some of her people came from the South, but there is no proof yet that they were the descendants of Hugh or Samuel Willson.

JOHN WILLSON

C1—John Willson married Widow Boyd. Came to the United States with his father Zaccheus in 1713, moved to Great Cove, Pennsylvania.

Children:
His wife Mrs. Boyd had Mary Boyd and Nancy Boyd
D1—Joseph Willson married
D2—Samuel Willson married Lowry
D3—Jane Willson—Jamison
D4—Elizabeth Willson-Scott (Remo Robb's ancestor)
D5—Abigail Willson—Bigger.

D—Mary Boyd (stepdaughter) married Andrew Walker, "who was remarkable for nothing except intolerable penuriousness, and a disposition to abuse his wife. He was exceedingly kind to her when observed, but at table while strangers were present he would be all smiles and caresses to his wife above, while he pinched her black and blue under the table."

D (stepdaughter) Nancy Boyd married Robert McConnell. They had fourteen children who are listed on the McConnell family tree. Since Mary and Sarah and Martha marry Willson's we include the McConnell's in the Appendix. "Robert was very anxious for the things of this world, of which he had abundance, but in order to get up early in the morning, he would sleep without cover, so that the cold might wake him and rising long before light would rouse his wife, have family worship almost on foot and be off. After his wife's death—he was known to travel twenty-five miles before daylight to get another—he was an Irishman and rich. May his memory rot!" —Z. G. Willson - 1858

JOSEPH WILLSON

D1 Joseph married and lived in Kentucky.

Children: E1 Joseph, living in Green Co. Xenia, Ohio in 1812. D1 Joseph, "after returning from the Indians, left his native place and went into Kentucky. He had acquired many of the habits of the savages and seemed to be very fond of the backwood's life. The wild character of the state of Old Daniel Boone seemed to invite the adventurous Joseph and he settled there. Of this family little is known, save that a son of his named Joseph lived in Green Co., Ohio, during the war of 1812, on Masse's Creek, near Xenia. My father (E3) saw him during the summer of 1812 and wished to obtain some information in regard to the family, but did not succeed in learning anything from him." May have been slaveholders.

Rev. Cuthbertson lists these children of Joseph Willson:
1. Elizabeth Willson baptised Nov. 19, 1751.
2. Sarah Willson baptised Jan. 10, 1753
3. James Willson (adopted) baptised Jan. 14, 1754.
4. Jean Willson baptised Apr. 14, 1756

SAMUEL WILLSON

D2 Samuel Willson married Martha Lowry. Lived near West Newton, Westmoreland Co., Penn., near West Newton on a farm now Mary Patterson's. Later lived in Kentucky and Ohio, eight miles from Lebanon, and about forty miles north of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Children:
E1—Sarah
E2—Margaret
E3—Mary
E4—Ann
E5—Elizabeth

E1—Sarah Willson married a Hamil, who was a brother of Andrew Hamil of Redstone, Fayette Co., Penn., and were members of Mr. Crozier's congregation at the Forks. Lived in Kentucky.

—o—

E2—Margaret Willson married John Orr. Lived on part of the farm that her father Samuel had owned. Many of the Orr descendants of his live near West Newton, Westmoreland Co., Pa.

—o—

E3—Mary Willson married Lewellen Howell, Forks of Yough. Died about 1850, at an old age, was known as "Aunt Polly Howell".

Children. All sons, only the three living 1858 are known.
F1—John
F2—Philip
F3—James

F1—John Howell married and lived with Philip on his parent's farm. Were distillers. The farm joined that of Robert McConnell's farm.

F2—Philip Howell.

F3—James Howell married a Reynolds, lived near brothers.

E4—Ann Willson married a McCracken.

Children: two sons.

F1 Associate Reformed Church minister 1850-1851 Kenton, county seat of Hardin Co., Ohio. I met him the winter of 1850 and found him a very inteligent social man, but not a fluent preacher.

F2 Also Associate Reformed Church minister.

—o—

E5 Elizabeth Willson married Mr. Carruthers, Lebanon, Ohio.

JANE WILLSON JAMISON

D3 Jane Willson married Robert Jamison a very respectable man. Covenanter, lived near Elizabeth, Allegheny Co., Pennsylvania. Married by Rev. Alexander Dobbins pastor Rock Creek society (Gettysburg). Feb. 2, 1777, at Cove.

Children:
E1—John
E2—William
E3—Matthew
E4—Samuel
E5—Joseph
E6—Margaret
E7—Mary

E1 John Jamison married Margaret Wylie and a Speer.

In 1858 he was living near New Concord, Muskingum Co., Ohio. He was named for his grandfather, John Willson. Very intelligent man, and a very efficient elder in the Salt Creek Covenanter congregation. In 1847 James Reynolds Willson visited him.

Children:
F1—Samuel
F2—Robert
F3—William
F4—5-6-7 daughters

F8-F16 are children of second wife. All married Covenanters in Ohio.

F1 Samuel Jamison is a Covenanter and is living near his father

F2 Robert Jamison married Sarah Willson (his third cousin), b. Oct. 30, 1827, married May 12, 1850. They lived near Mediapol's, Iowa. Might be buried at Sharon or Mediapolis. Came to Iowa 1855. Sarah was the daughter of Isaac Willson (E7) who married Cassandra DeVore.

Children:

G1—James Renwick Willson Jamison.

G2—Another child, died young.

G1 James Renwick Jamison lived with his grandfather Isaac Willson in Iowa after his parents died. His aunt Sidney tells of caring for him when his mother was sick, and found him in the firebox of cookstove. had taken the lids off, and crawled in, "very active child" she said. He died young.

F3 William Jamison married Elizabeth Leonard, Morning Sun. Iowa. Is a member of Virginia Grove Covenanter church.

F4 Daughter Jamison married David Wallace, elder Salt Creek Covenanter church. An intelligent man. His father Robert Wallace and two brothers. James Wallace and John Wallace. were Covenanter preachers, born in Ireland, educated in Philadelphia.

F5 Daughter Jamison married Robert Speers, a deacon in the Salt Creek Covenanter church. Robert Speers is stepchild of John Jamison. by his second wife.

F6—Daughter Jamison married a Mr. Sterrett, a brother of the Rev. Samuel Sterrett. preacher at Beaver Co., Penn.

F7 Daughter Jamison.

E2 William Jamison died at age twenty-one.

E3 Matthew Jamison born 1786, single. teacher Ohio and Pennsylvania. Has no regular place of abode, wanders about from place to place. always travels, in fact has been for some years laboring under aberation of mind. when young he taught school several years.

E4 Samuel Jamison raised a family in western Ohio, died at 45 in Bellfontaine, Ohio. Had one son.

F1 Robert Jamison. Kenton Ohio, not Covenanters.

E5 Joseph Jamison died while young.

E6 Margaret Jamison. single, died 1853 or 1854. Northwood, Ohio.

E7 Mary Jamison, single, Northwood. Logan Co., Ohio.

ELIZABETH WILLSON SCOTT

D4 Elizabeth Willson, born 1749, died Feb. 13, 1827, married Samuel Scott, Sr., son of Joseph, born 1751 in Ballymacran, near Newton, Limavada, Co. Derry, Ireland, and came to Amercia in 1760-1770, died Dec. 27, 1819, both buried, Union, on Steubenville turnpike ½ mile from homestead; married 1776 or '75. Settled Pequa, Pa., RPC, Conecocheague, Pa., probably also in Lancaster Co. Some time later he purchased a team of horses, a conestoga wagon and farming implements and started for the west going by Bedford Springs, Pa., settling in Robinson Twp., Washington Co., Pa.

IN THOSE early days of settlement, the settlers were subject to frequent attacks by Indians, consequently the most important matter to attract attention of our pioneer forefathers was to defend, not only themselves, but also their wives and children, against tomahawks of savages. In order to afford protection, the settlers had built a fort on the McMichael farm (afterwards known as the Cowan farm), near Campbell's Run. As was the custom in those days. the neighbors assisted each other with their work, going in companies to the different farms, and leaving their wives and children in the block-house. About sunset each day they all reassembled at the block-house. where they often remained all night. If any of their number failed to appear at the appointed time, their friends concluded they had been massacred by the Indians.

Nov. 23, 1799 he purchased 331 A. from John Bail for pounds 516 specie. The deed is recorded Mar. 1, 1800, Allegheny Co. court house, Vol. 9, p. 317. May 4. 1805, he purchased 309¼ A. on Miller's Run. Pa., from Alexander Addison in consideration of $2,474. Recorded in Washington Co. Feb. 10. 1806 in Deed Book T, folio 296. "This farm is part of a larger tract of land which the king of Great Britain, by patent bearing date July 5, 1774, under the hand of John Earl of Dunmore, Lieut. Gov. of the then colony of Virginia and the seal of the said colony, granted in fee to GEORGE WASHINGTON. Esquire, who. with Martha, his wife. by deed bearing date the first day of June, in the year of our Lord, 1796, conveyed the same in fee to Matthew Ritchey, Esquire , since deceased, who by his last 'will and testament', devised the same in fee to Alexander Addison."

He lived in true pioneer style in little log cabin until 1806 when he erected a large two story stone house. where he died.

In 1805 fall a communion service, conducted by S. B. Wylie. was held on his farm. Fifty persons came a distance of twenty to thirty miles in wagons and on horseback. Arrived Wednesday and remained until Monday. during which they enjoyed the hospitality of Mr. Scott and Elizabeth, such as the circumstances of frontier life would permit. They lived in the log cabin so Mr. Scott slept with the guests on the barn floor covered with straw, spread with wagon covers and blankets.

Thursday was kept as a fast day preparatory to the communion. On Friday, all the able-bodied men went to work, hewing and hauling logs with which to erect a communion table, seats and a tent. from which the minister addressed the audience. (This tent was located where John Scott's barn now stands.) Services were held Thursday, Saturday afternoon. Sabbath and Monday morning. after which the worshipers returned to their homes.

Samuel Scott owned a fine horse named "Coley", which was regarded as very swift and sure-footed. Some time 1815 he started on his fleet-footed horse "Coley", on a chase to the land office at Canton or Mansfield, Ohio, to enter some land. Leaving his home in Robinson twp., he journeyed through Frankfort to Yellow Creek, Jefferson Co., Ohio, where he lodged the first night at the home of Hon. Thomas George (brother of David George who married his daughter, Nancy Scott), who was afterwards a prominent member of the Ohio Legislature. He continued on his journey, carrying food for himself and "Coley" in his saddle-bags, and lodging at night at convenient places along the route.

This was a very perilous journey, as the country at that time was infested with hostile Indians; but despite the dangers and difficulties he encountered, he reached the land office in safety, and, being first of the numerous competitors, accordingly entered a section (640 A) of land in territory of Ohio "section 25 of twp. 23, Rg 19"—twelve miles northwest of what is now Mansfield, Ohio—on the main road leading to Sandusky.

He also entered in same territory, distinguished as the "east ½ of sec. 1, twp. 23, Rg 16", making 960 A in Ohio plus land in western Pennsylvania, making about 1600 A. of land in his possession.

On the day previous to his death, Mr. Scott made his will, of which the following is a copy:

"In the name of God, Amen. I, Samuel Scot, of Robinson Twp., Allegheny Co., State of Penn., ailing in my person, but, praise be to God, in the full possession of my mental powers, believe it my duty to set my house in order, as it is appointed for all men once to die, make this my last will and testament, hereby ignoring and revoking all others of previous date.

"I bequeath my soul to God through the merits of my dear Redeemer, my body to a decent interment at the discretion of my executors, in hopes of a glorious and blessed resurrection, and arrange my worldly affairs in the following order:

"My funeral expenses and my other debts owing by me at my death, I desire my executors to pay expeditiously after my interment, and my worldly property I dispose of as follows:

"First: I bequeath to my wife, Elizabeth Scot, my dwelling-house as long as she lives; a sufficiency of wood and coals, cut and hauled home to the house; one horse, the choice of my stable; two of the best of my cows; ten sheep; all the furniture my house contains, and one-third of the small grain and one-half of the hay which grows annually on my farm. Said chattel property I authorize her to dispose of as she pleases, the grain to be cut, stored and threshed for her annually without trouble or expense.

"Secondly: I bequeath to the orphan children of my son John, now deceased, to his five daughters, Hannah, Betsey, Polly, Esther and Rachel, equal shares in the whole amount of the chattel property, coming to him from the vendues made—the one after the death of their father, the other after the death of their mother—and the yearly profit rents of the farm on Miller's Run to Samuel when he comes to the age of twenty-one years—the aggregate amount I desire to be equally divided among them when Samuel comes of age. I desire my executors to divide honestly, that farm of land my son John occupied, into three equal parts, of which I allow them immediate possession, providing they don't claim a child's part in the chattel property I have bequeathed to their sisters; if they do claim a child's part of the chattel property reserved for their sisters, I, by these presents, authorize my executors to withhold from their claim, possession or any privilege arising to them from said shares in the above-mentioned farm, until they pay to my executors a sum of money amounting to the sum of the shares in the chattel property they claimed, and having fulfilled said condition, I bequeath to my three grandsons, Samuel Scot, Jonathan Scot, and John Scot, said freehold farm, as divided by executors, to them and to their heirs forever, free of rent.

"Thirdly: I bequeath to my daughter, Margaret, wife of Archibald Slater, the sum of three hundred and fifty dollars, to be paid by my executors twelve months after my decease.

"Fourthly: I bequeath to my daughter, Betsy, the wife of William Wright, the sum of three hundred and fifty dollars, to be paid her twelve months after my death.

"Fifthly: I bequeath to my daughter, Polly (Mary Scott, wife of James McGinness), one quarter section of land in the territory of Ohio called 'the north-half, section 25, twp. 23, Rg 19', to her and her heirs forever, free of all rents or demands save the taxes; said property I have leased ten years from April 1820. At the expiration of said term she shall have, by my executors, quiet and peacable possession of said quarter section, to be enjoyed forever by her and her heirs, free of rent. I also bequeath to her eight sheep, to be fed for her free of expense.

"Sixthly: I bequeath to my daughter, Nancy, the other quarter remaining, of the above-mentioned portion of land in the territory of Ohio, being the second quarter section of the half-section, distinguished 'the north-half, sec. 25, twp. 23, rg. 19', on the lines with her sister Polly's quarter-section, to be held forever by her and her heirs free of rent.

"Seventhly: I bequeath to my son William all of that ½ section of land in the ty. of Ohio—adjacent to his sisters' division—already in his possession, of which he has a conveyance, under my hand, in the presence of Andrew McCurdy, Esq., to be held and occupied forever by him and his heirs free of rent.

"Eighthly: I bequeath to my son Joseph, (J. K. Robb's grandfather) one hundred and fifty acres of land on the waters of Miller's run, which he now occupies, to be held and possessed by him and his heirs forever free of rent.

"Ninthly: I bequeath to my son Samuel Scot, the one-half of my own farm. The survey of it is 310 A. of which I bequeath to him 150 A. free of rents or demands; and during my wife's life, he has to occupy the whole farm and discharge the conditions of my will expressed in the division which respects his mother. I bequeath to him the large still and wagon free of expense.

"Tenthly: I bequeath to my son James one-half ...tion of land in the ty. of Ohio, distinguished as 'the ...st half of section 1. twp. 23, rg. 17', of which I be...eath him the full and free enjoyment of during his ...fe, and authority to bequeath it to his children at his ...ath, to be the property of them and their heirs for...er free of rent and equally divided among them. I ...equeath him one good horse, one cow, one patent ...low, trees and harness for ploughing and six good ...heep. If there be a second horse to spare, I allow it ...o him or else that Samuel will move him out.

"Lastly: The other half of my farm, after the death of my wife, I desire to be disposed to my son Samuel, providing he pays for it the sum $2,000, for which I allow him seven years to pay the money, the first seventh part of it to be paid in 12 months after the death of my wife, another seventh part to be paid next twelve months, and so, annually, until he pays in the whole of the purchase, every year one-seventh part. When the within mentioned $700 are paid to my two daughters, the remainder is to be equally divided to each of the within named legatees, besides the amount of the sales of chattel property that remains unbequeathed in the within testament, and I, by these presents, authorize, nominate and appoint my three sons, William Scot, Joseph Scot and Samuel Scot, to execute this my last will and testament. Signed, sealed and delivered this Dec. 26, 1819." Samuel, X his mark, Scot. (Seal)

In the Des Moines Co. history "Joseph McElhinney pursued his education in the early subscription schools, the school house being built of logs, and furnished after the primitive manner of the times, with rude benches and a big fireplace. Reared to the occupation of farming, he has always followed that pursuit, and is owner of one hundred and ten acres of valuable land on Section 4 Yellow Springs township. The greater part of this is under a high state of cultivation, and he also has twenty acres of timber land in Louisa County. He has made all of the improvements upon his farm, erecting his large dwelling in 1876,. There are other substantial buildings on the place for the shelter of grain and stock, and these in turn are surrounded by well tilled fields. Mr. McElhinney raises annually from fifty to sixty head of hogs, mostly of the Duroc breed and he also has some high-bred Hereford cattle.

Rev. James Renwick Willson was a student and pronounced the most powerful preacher the Covenanter church ever produced. One Sabbath day he was conducting communion services in the "middle branch" of the congregation (which was known as "Rock Spring"). As usual at that time, Covenanters from miles around came to attend the services. The crowd was so great that the tables were set outside the church. As the service progressed, clouds began to gather, a few drops of rain fell. While the lightning flashed and the thunder rolled and people were beginning to leave the table, Greatgrandfather, J. R. Willson (as told by Mrs. John Coleman) prayed earnestly, (like Elijah, but for a different reason) that it might not rain: that the Prince of the power of the air might not be permitted to disturb the Lord's people as they partook of His feast. The people sat still, and the clouds passed by; but when those who lived to the south of the church came to the creek that they had to cross on their way home, they found it so swollen that they had to return to the church and stay all night. There are other stories: one, of his binding the lawyers of Greensburg into a bundle and throwing them off the pulpit as if into hell; one, of his being burned in effigy in Albany; and one, of his prayer during the flood in Cincinnati.

She had a sister Agnes who married John McCullough, La Junta, Colo. may have been a half-sister. One brother lived at Benton Harbor, Michigan.

MARGARET WILLSON TODD

F8—Margaret Louisa Willson, born Nov. 10, 1823, died June 25, 1873, Evans, Colo., married Rev. Andrew Calvin Todd, born Jan. 23, 1826, Charleston, South Car., died Apr. 12, 1898, (Capt. 1862) married Oct. 2, 1849, Greensburgh, Pa. His second marriage to Ella A. Brown, July 6 1880, Iowa City, d. Mar. 9. 1893, Payson, U. 3rd mar. July 17, 18994, Adella Nelson, South Wayne, Wis., a teacher at Springvale U. In 1891 he went from RPC to Presbyterian. Built a congregation at Payton, Utah, mostly from Mormons.

He was counted a pulpit orator of exceptional powers. His imagination was most vivid and his powers of expression such as enabled him to exercise his dramatic inclinations to the full. Many of his texts were chosen from the Old Testament. He was also a student of prophecy. Upon one occasion Rev. A. C. Todd was protecting some slaves. When the Southern owners came to look for them they were looking out the attic window, but he met them at the front gate and said if they went after them it would be over his dead body. He lived where Harold and Beth Auld live, in Oakdale, Ill., though the underground railway was the

Will Robinson house, now the Kohring place on the main road . But he hid some of them beeause having been born in the South, hated slavery and was a man of deep convietions.

He was a remarkable man in the pulpit was impetuous and self reliant and while he was a pastor of the Lockhorn, Ill. congregation President Abraham Lincoln issued a call for young men on the field. Naturally when he spoke out he would at once go to the eall of his country and asked any men who cared to join with him. Consequently the community gathered at the church where the Oakdale graveyard now is and a group of Volunteers was formed and they named him as Captain, August, 1862.

On the day of their leaving as Army recruits, most of the community gathered at this church grounds and bade farewell to their loved ones. After joining in singing Ps. 121 and Ps. 46 a farewell prayer was offered and off they started for St. Louis, Mo. Here they found the Ill. quota of Volunteers was full at this time and they joined the 10th Mo. Vol. Inf. They were marched south through Missouri into Arkansas and crossed the river. Encountered several battles and skirmishes and some were wounded. Rev. A. C. Todd, wife Margaret Louisa Willson was in poor health and after a few years service in the infantry he was discharged to go home to her. Went to Evans, Colo. for her health. He was in demand as a speaker on Memorial day and some of his speeches are preserved. G. A.R., Mayor of Evans, Colo.

Andrew Calvin Todd's parents were Dr. Andrew Todd and Margaret McLean Todd. Mrs. Frank Torrens has a small well thumbed old medicine book they used. It is torn and the leaves are brown. They made home remedies. by gathering roots or stems of herbs and brewed them. Some of the liquid was used as liquid medicine, and some liquid was mixed with flour for pills.

Willson Reunions

BY LOIS W. HONEYMAN, 1955

Willson reunions were begun at Grandfather and Uncle John Willson's home (owned by Jack Pilling in 1955) during the sixties, because Grandfather wanted to know his growing grandchildren, and wanted them to know each other. They were held nearly every summer, sometimes at other homes. The first one I (Lois) remember was at Uncle (Robt.) Hays when I was a very small girl. From 1880 to 1910 they were held usually the year there was no big wedding or reception . . . . There were many of these . . . .Rachael Reid's in 1883, Anna Willson's to C. B. Wilson in 1885, John Hays' wedding at Mr. Orr's. 1888, John E.Willson's reception at the old home place, 1887, Martha Lupton's wedding and Zaccheus James' reception, Frank Hays and Mattie Kennedy's wedding, 1892. Sam T. Willson and Mary Hutchroft's big wedding, 1894, Beza Willson's reception, 1894, A. M. Willson's reception and Mattie Wickertsheimer's wedding the same evening, August 8, 1895; McLeod McClure's reception, 1896, J. Z. Willson's 1898, both of these in the big duplex house where Aunt Jane McKibben and Aunt Nancy McClure lived the last of the big Willson weddings was Lois Willson to M. C. Honeyman, 1907 at the C. B. Wilson home. There were many smaller weddings and receptions where part of the familes were invited. There were "Cousin Parties" too, at many different homes.

Just sixty years ago, the best remembered family reunion was held at the J. T. Hensleigh home. August 15, 1895, the next week after the Willson weddings (Adam and Mattie). A photographer took a really wonderful picture of the group and the names of the guests were printed below. Of the seventy-five Wil-on's there, nineteen are still living, 1955. Two present have passed on reently, Mrs. John E. Willson—een, Sept. 1, 1954 at eighty-eight and Mrs. C. B. Wilson, March 11, 1955, at ninety-three. Mrs. McLeod McClure died Jan. 10, 1955 but she was not yet in the family in 1895.

From "Olive Trees", October, 1899. "The Willson families held a reunion in the bounds of this congregation (Morning Sun) August 23, 1899. One hundred and fifteen descendants of Zaccheus Willson, who was born in Eastern Pennsylvania in 1753 and died in 1827, gathered at the home of a great-grandson, J. T. Hensleigh, a deacon of the Morning Sun congregation. One hundred and five of these were descendants of John Z. Willson, who settled on Sharon prairie,Iowa, in 1352. .The others represented the families of Rev. James R. Willson, D. D., Isaac Willson and Robert Willson, all sons of Zaccheus Willson. After a bountiful repast there were songs and exercises by the young people and talks by several ministers present. The occasion was a memorable and an enjoyable one. Sacramental services began Aug. 25, with Prof. D. B. Willson, D. D. as the pastor's assistant."

Another reunion August 7, 1897 was at C. B. Wilson's in honor of Anna's thirty-sixtn birthday. Seventy-four Willson's were there and about thirty other guests. From a distance were Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Lupton (Martha Willson) and son, Fred of St. Louis; Mr. and Mrs. Linn Hays of Ohio; and Mrs. Mary Jane Willson (Mrs. Zaccheus G. Willson) of New York City.

News-Herald Aug. 19, 1898

One of the memorable occasions was the Willson family reunion held at the pleasant home of Charles Wilson east of town last Friday. The occasion also being Mrs. Wilson's thirty-seventh birthday. Of the immediate connection 74 were present, other relatives and friends making the total of 105. Supper was served on the lawn after which Rev. T. P. Robb and James R. Willson gave some reminiscences, Rev. E. M. McFadden some pleasant remarks, Mrs. C.B. Wilson a brief talk on the "Willson's and Matrimony," singing of the Psalm 133 by the company and prayer by Dr. C. D. Trumbull. Mrs. Wilson received from her husband (as a souvenir) a goldstone set in India gold which was an heirloom in his family. A brief history of this numerous family may be of interest to your readers. James R. Willson came to Iowa from Allegheny, Pa., in 1851. In 1852 his father John Z. Willson and family of grown children, five girls and five boys, settled here. Eight of them soon married and 40 children grew to maturity in "Sharon". One brother Zaccheus lived in St. Louis, he, his wife and daughter May, almost always spending their summers here. Of the 41 cousins, five lovely young women and one highly esteemed young man have been called to their reward. The first marriage occurred in 1880—McLeod Hayes; 24 are now married. To these have been given 45 children, 22 boys and 23 girls; 5 await us in heaven. Those living at a distance are McLeod Hays and family of Burlington, Charles W. Gauze and family of New York City, A. M. Willson and family of Boulder City, Colorado and Will Lupton and family of St. Louis. The last named were present, also Linn Hays and wife of Ohio and Mrs. M. J. Willson of New York City. One hundred and eleven of the family are now living.

I (Lois) remember a very pleasant reunion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Reid (Rachael Willson) during the holidays in 1904. That would be just a year after the reunion for the James R. Willson's Fiftieth Wedding anniversary. I was also at either a big cousin party or a reunion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hays during the winter of 1909 and know of them having another one for Mr. and Mrs. Dave T. Willson when they visited from Washington but do not know the year.. About 1915.

An important Family Reunion was held about August 12, 1914 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will E. Willson. All of the descendants of Samuel E. Willson were there to honor Rev. and Mrs. Robert E. Willson, Bruce and Helen, who were home on their first furlough from the mission field in Mersine, Turkey, Asia Minor. Pictures were taken of the whole group and also of the S. E. Willson family only. This reunion was the same week as the funeral of Russell Wilson who had been killed in a runaway, Aug. 8, 1914. Thus often at our reunions joy blended with the tears of sorrow.

A very happy company of about one hundred gathered at the pleasant country home of Honorable and Mrs. C. B Wilson on Thursday. December twenty-third, 1920, to celebrate Mr. and Mrs. Wilson's thirty-fifth wedding anniversary; Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Hensleigh's fortieth wedding; Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Martin's thirty-sixth wedding and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Reid's fortieth wedding; Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Hutcheson's thirty-seventh wedding; Mr and Mrs. S. M. McClure's twenty-third wedding and Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Wilson's twenty-sixth wedding anniversary. All of these are cousins except the last named.

Reunions were an annual affair when I moved back to Morning Sun in 1922, usually in Locust Grove Park. In 1923, Mrs. A. M. Willson and daughter Lois attended from Rock Springs, Wyoming. After this reunion I wrote, by request a short history of the Willson's for the Morning Sun News - Herald, which follows:

From the Morning Sun News-Herald September 1923

Sketch of Willson Family 1713 - 1923

So far as known the first Willson in America was Zaccheus who came from Ireland and settled in the Cove, Franklin county, Pa. From his son James, whose wife was Susannah Alexander, our family descends, through his son Zaccheus, born 1753, who was married to Mary McConnell, July 1, 1778. They lived at the Forks of the Yough, 8 miles above Pittsburgh, Pa. where they had moved in 1770. Here our grandfather, John Z. Willson, was born Jan. 31,1784, and here he married his cousin, Nancy McConnell, Dec. 19. 1814, She died Aug. 27. 1835. Grandfather had fought for the United States in the War of 1812.

To Grandfather and Grandmother Willson, whose home was at Elizabeth, Pa., were born ten children:

1—Mary Jane Willson, Dec. 11,1815, married Robert McKibben and died March 27, 1908, aged 92 years.

2—Adam McConnell Willson Aug. 11, 1817, married Mrs. Ann Reid McClure and died in 1876.

3—Ellis G. Willson, April 18 1819 died Dec. 1904.

4—Zaccheus G. Willson June 21 1821 married Mary Jane Gass at St. Louis July 4, 1857, died May, 1891.

5—James Reynolds Willson, July 23, 1823, married Myrilla Reid, Feb. 16, 1853, ,died Dec. 17, 1914.

6—John Willson, Aug. 31, 1825, married Nancy Elliott, Jan. 9, 1855, died Dec. 17, 1883.

7—Samuel E. Willson, July 1, 1827 married Sarah Elliott, Dec. 15, 1863, died Dec 1, 1891.

8—Nancy Ann Willson, Feb, 24, 1829, married Alex McClure died July 7, 1919.

9—Susannah C. Willson, Sept. 10, 1831, married William Hensleigh Feb. 2, 1858, died January 5, 1913.

10—Martha T., March 28, 1833, married Robert A. Hays, died August 25, 1877.

Mary Jane McKibben and Ellis Willson had no children.

James R. Willson was the first of his family to come to Iowa. He came in the Spring of 1851, by rail from Pittsburgn, Penna., then by stage to Cleveland by steamboat on Lake Erie to Toledo, by stage to Chicago, a few miles more by rail, by stage, then to the Mississippi river, which he crossed by ferry boat at New Boston, Illinois, then on to the Sharon neighborhood by wagon, a distance of about sixteen miles. Here he met Myrilla Reid. She had come from Ohio in 1850, and they planned their wedding for Feb. 16, 1853. So glowing were James' descriptions of the opportunities in Iowa, that grandfather and all his other children left their Pennsylvaia home to join James during the Fall of 1852. They came by boat down the Ohio river and up the Mississippi river to Burlington where they landed December, 1852. Two brothers, Zaccheus and Adam had found work in St. Louis, Mo.

Zaccheus Willson made his home there for many years, being principal of a school there for about 30 years. He married Miss Mary Jane Gass there. After he quit teaching they lived mostly in Glenwood, Minnesota until his death in 1891. His widow moved to Oakland, California, where she died April, 1923, at 94 years of age. They had no children, but adopted May, who married Charles Gause. With their family, they live in California.

Adam Willson came on to Iowa in a few months and married Mrs. Ann Reid McClure, a widow with one son, John McClure, who died, 1917. His widow, Mrs. John McClure died July 17, 1941, age ninety-two. To Adam and Anna were born: 1—Martha E., now Mrs. Will F. Lupton, Galesburg, Ill. They have one son, Fred, who married Ella Foedisch.

2—Zaccheus James Willson, who married Winona Willson, October 24, 1889 and died Jan. 25, 1912. Mrs. Winona Willson is now matron of a school at Stanton, Kentucky. They have Donald, who married Harriett Pogemiller and these have one daughter, Doris. Also Albert Willson who married Margaret McElhinney. Albert Willson was overseas in the World War I. They live at Creston, Iowa. Also Maurice and Clement Willson.

To the Willson family: There are probably mistakes in this family history and there are other things I would have liked to put in. The first part and nearly all of the dates are copied from Dr. Susan Wiggins' and Uncle Zaccheus Willson's book, began in 1858.

Signed: Mrs. Lois Honeyman

To continue the history (1955) I remember a small reunion on a rainy day, in the Morning Sun grade school assembly room Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Jamison (Erma Willson) were present from Youngstown, Ohio.

We began having part of the reunions at Crapo Park in the nineteen twenties and thirties.

Until about 1929, the reunion had been almost entirely for the John Zaccheus Willson E6 family. But after Lillian Willson of the Isaac Willson (E7) family and E. Raymond Willson had been friends at college at Ames, Iowa, all double LL Willsons have been welcomed. At the 1935 reunion there were eighteen of the Isaac Willson family, R. W. McElhinney of the Robert Willson (E3) who was the son of Aaron (D4) family, and Miss Juliet Cannon of the Rev. James R. Willson, D. D. (E1) family. (1780-1852). Those attending from a distance were: Mrs. Martha Wickertsheimer, Rathdrum, Idaho, where she had lived since 1902, Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Jamison and daughter Nancy, Youngstown, Ohio and Mr. and Mrs. Frank O'Neill and sons, Howard and Gene. Winchester, Kan.

The Willson family held their 1935 reunion at the Shelter House, Crapo Park, August 21. There were about one hundred twenty present. The dinner was as fine as usual. A picture of the reunion held forty years ago at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Hensleigh aroused much interest. A count showed that twenty-five of the ninety-three photographed were present this year. Other pictures showed those present twenty-one years ago at a reunion at the Will E. Willson heme. The committee for next year is chairman Mr. and Mrs. John E. Willson, West Burlington: Mr. and Mrs. Arnot Hays, Burlington; Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Willson, Rock Island, Ill.

A list of those present with the number from each family follows.

Adam M. Willson family, 9 present—Mr. and Mrs. D. McElhinney, Mr. and Mrs. Sam McElhinney, Mr Maurice Willson, Morning Sun; W. R. Willson, Oklahoma City, Okla.; S. T. Willson and daughters Edna Lulu and Dorothy of Mediapolis.

Samuel E. Willson family, 12 present—Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Willson, Rock Island, Ill., Mrs. Margaret Willson and daughters Helen and Grace, Mrs. Will E. Willson, Morning Sun; Mr. and Mrs. Milan B. Willson and son Jonn Milan of West Burlington; Mr. and Mrs. DeVere Jamison and daughter Nancy Sue of Youngstown, Ohio.

William Hensleigh family, 26 present—Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Jones, Francis Hubert, Patty, Tom and Bob, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Blake of Mediapolis; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Evans, Kathryn and Kenneth of New London; Mr. and Mrs. Walter McElhinney and daughter Anna, Mrs. Lizzie Hensleigh and daughter Anna, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Hensleigh of Morning Sun; Mr. and Mrs. Frank O'Neill, Howard and Gene of Winchester, Kansas.

John Willson family, 16 present— S. Oliver Willson, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Willson, Lawrence, Phyllis, Ivan and Harry of Wapello; Mr. and Mrs. Ewart Willson, Elaine and Helen of Burlington; Mr. and Mrs. John Willson, Martha and James of West Burlington; Miss Vina Reid of Omaha.

Robert Hays family, (Martha Willson) fifteen present Mrs. L. G. Younkin, Mrs. M. J. Kuhn and daughters Cecilia Ann and Cynthia Fay, Mrs. Ralph Anderson of Burlington; J. B. Hays, Mrs. J. W. Hays, Mr. and Mrs. Milford Hays and sons John and Billy of Morning Sun; Mr. and Mrs. Arnot Hays, Roberta, Patricia and William of Burlington.

Isaac Willson family, (Wilbur Willson), eighteen present —Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Willson, Lillian Willson, Elmer Willson aand sons Elmer and Billy, Virginia and Jack Willson, Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Willson, Raymond, Mary Ann, Dorothy, Martha and Betty, of Burlington; Mrs. Emma Willson Witherell and children, Harold and Marie of Galesburg Ill.

Nancy McClure family, six present—Mr. and Mrs. S. M. McClure, Mrs. Esther Mueller and son Charles, Miss Hyma McClure and Robert McClure of Morning Sun.

James R. Willson family, six present—Miss Mary E. Willson, Mrs. Lois Honeyman, John, Marian and Donald Honeyman of Morning Sun; Mrs. Martha Wickertsheimer of Rathdrum, Idaho.

Others at the reunion were R. W. McElhinney of long Beach, California, descendant of Robert Willson: Miss Juliet Cannon of Morning Sun descendant of Rev. James R. Willson, D. D.. Guests were Rev. and Mrs H. G. Patterson and Rev. and Mrs. M. W. Dougherty and daughter Esther.

In 1936, Mrs. Tillie Caldwell and Mrs. Mell McElhinney arranged to have the McCulley Reunion held in the Shelter House in Crapo Park, Burlington, Iowa, the same day the Willson Reunion was being held there. The McCulleys were on the rolls of the Family Tree as they are descended from (D4)Aaron Willson, a brother of Zaccheus (D6) who was the father of John Zaccheus Willson (E3). After dinner, Mrs. J. Ralph Wilson took the Family Tree over to the McCulley table and brought their family record up to date. At that time the Family Tree was in the form of a long brown wrapping paper scroll, in four parts, which E Raymond Wilson had copied from Dr. Susan Wiggin's records in Philadelphia, Penna.

At least one reunion 1937 or 1938 was held in the high school gymnasium at Morning Sun. It was Mary E. Willson's last reunion.

To Miss Mary E. Willson. to Anna J. Wilson and to Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Hensleigh with good help from a lot of others, should go much of the credit for holding the family together.

When gasoline was rationed during World War II the annual reunions were discontinued. The young men of the family were scattered as never before. Fred Hays had lost his life in World War I. In World War II, Albert Willson's son Bill was shot down over Germany and Cam Willson's son Howard was shot down over France. Young men from the families were all over the world and we have never got together since, as we did before.

Two pleasant small reunions since World War II were held in the Morning Sun Library: In 1948 E. Raymond and Miriam Wilson of Pennsylvania stopped at Morning Sun enroute to a speaking tour of the states west of Iowa. They and Mr. and Mrs. Howard O'Neill then of Madison, Wisconsin, now of Winchester, Kansas, were the guests from the greatest distance, but many others were here from Monmouth, Albia, Washington, Burlington and points between.

In 1949, many of the same ones came back. The families of Robert McClure, Tom Evans and Homer Willson made up the committee for this reunion.

News Herald, 1949, Nov. 24

Willson Reunion in Morning Sun. By Lois Willson Honeyman.

With the Robert McClure's, the Tom Evans' and Homer Willson's as committee in charge, the Willson family met in the library Friday evening. About sixty were present.

Besides those from this neighorhood were Mr. and Mrs. Lowry Willson, Monmouth; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Willson and Earle, Albia, Iowa; Mrs. Tillie Caldwell, Mr. and Mrs. John Blick, Washington; Allen Lucas of Crawfordsville; Mrs. W. W. Willson, Elmer and Lillian, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Willson and Linda, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Willson, Martha Marie and John Eldon; Mr. and Mrs. Homer Willson, Coralie and Rosalie; Mr. Mr. and Mrs. Tom Evans and Kathryn, Burlington or West Burlington;Mrs. Emanuel Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Jones, Mediapolis; John Honeyman, Paducah, Ky.

The decorations were in keeping with Thanksgiving —ears of corn and big red apples. Some pictures were interesting. A large portrait of John Zaccheus Willson (born in 1784 in Penn. died in the Sharon neighbor hood 1871) grandfather or greatgrandfather of most of the guests; a Willson reunion group picture taken in 1895 and another one taken in 1914, besides several family groups and quite a few individual pictures both old and new.

The dinner was both abundant and delicious. After dinner Robert McClure, as toastmaster, introduced Mrs. Anna Jane Willson-Wilson, the oldest guest and the oldest living desendant of the John Z. Willson mentioned above. Mrs. Wilson responded by saying she had been attending Willson reunions for about eighty years. She asked several persons to stand because of their marked resemblance to some of their Willson ancestors. Mr. McClure presented her with a corsage to show the appreciation of the family for her loyalty to it and to her presence at almost every reunion during all her years.

1955 AT SHARON CHURCH

The Willson's held a very fine reunion at Sharon church, Saturday, August 13, 1955. More than one hundred gathered from this community and from their homes from New York to California. The day was ideal after several days of pleasant weather following three of four weeks of intense heat.

Representatives of all the Willson families near were there and greeted relatives some of whom they had not seen for many years and whom the younger set had never seen before.

Mrs. Margaret Gloss and Mrs. Honeyman only living grand-children of John Z. Willson, were the oldest guests.

Dinner was served by the committee who were all members of the Sharon church where the founders of this family in Iowa all belonged. Quoting a guest before dinner, "the tables groaned with the abundance of choice food." After dinner the diners groaned, or felt like it. Dinner was served in the delightfully cool basement of the lovely Sharon church.

After dinner Mrs. Lois Honeyman introduced the individual groups as follows:

Adam M. Wilson family: Mr. and Mrs. Neill Trotman and Sarah, Washington, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Willson, El Monte, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Clement Willson, Waterloo, Iowa; Mrs. Maurice Willson, Morning Sun: Mr. and Mrs. Laird Willson, Davenport. Present 10.

Present 16.

Isaac Willson family: Mr. and Mrs. Grover Willson Sr., Mt. Pleasant; Misses Lillian and Jacklyn Willson Burington; Mr. and Mrs. Grover Willson Jr., Morning Sun. Present 6.

10 guests: Sharon R P church Rev. and Mrs. J. O. Edgar and Louise; Morning Sun R P church Rev. and Mrs. J. E. McElroy, Jimmy, Jerel, Janis and John, Joe McElroy, Morning Sun; Miss Maxine Humphreys Ashland, Kansas.

Nearly everyone viewed the new monument erected to John Zaccheus Willson in May by his grandchildren and great grandchildren. Many ordered copies of the Family Tree after a discussion about getting it printed this year. Forrest Talbott had taken pictures of the monument. During the afternoon Donald Honeyman took a great many pictures according to families.

Much visiting throughout the day soon brought the end of a perfect day. The committee for the dinner: Robert McClure's, Joseph Marshall's, Milford Hays's Robert Baird's and Mrs. Pearl McElhinney, who were descendants of John Z. Willson and who belonged to the Sharon R P church, Morning Sun, Iowa.

AS I REMEMBER

by Lois Honeyman

The first wedding in the family of John Z. Willson was that of James Reynolds Willson and Myrilla Reid Feb. 16, 1853, very soon after the rest of the Willson family had come down the Ohio river and up the Mississippi river to Burlington, in December of 1852. All the family were there except Adam and Zaccheus who had found work in St. Louis. James and Myrilla celebrated their golden wedding with a family reunion at the home of their daughter, Mrs. C. B. Wilson in 1903. They were given more years together until Myrilla's death in 1909. James R. followed in 1914.

I did not find the dates of the other weddings, but I know Susannah married William Hensleigh in 1858, because I attended their fortieth anniversary in 1898. They celebrated their golden wedding February 2, 1908, at the home of their daughter Mrs. Hugh Martin. It was a very cold day and many thought it was too cold for the old folks to go, but Aunt Jane McKibben, Aunt Nancy McClure and James R. and Myrilla went anyway, and none of them got sick.

The Hensleighs lived several years longer. After a long illness, Mrs. Hensleigh died Sabbath morning, January 5, 1913. Mr. Hensleigh's death followed about midnight Monday night. They were buried in one grave after the funeral service in Sharon Reformed Presbyterian church.

Miss Ellis Willson never married but all the others (except Jane, whose wedding is told in another place) were married by 1866.

The two oldest cousins (children of J. R. Willson) were John Z., born January 28, 1854, and his sister, Mary E., born June 26, 1855. The two youngest cousins, Lois, (J. R.'s youngest child) born March 10, 1877 and Robert E. (son of Samuel and Sarah Willson) born July 4, 1879—twenty-five years between the ages of the oldest cousin and the youngest.

Most of the families lost at least one little child, but forty cousins grew to maturity. Of those, Adam M. Willson's daughter, Lizzie Willson Armstrong died in 1885; J. R. Willson's daughters. May died April 14, 1887, Sue died February 26, 1891, and Minnie died March 26, 1891. Elonzo Hensleigh died as a result of a kick from a horse ,November 21, 1890, and his sister Martha Hensleigh died after a long illness on April 1, 1893. Ella Hays died May, 1893 She was the oldest of the Hays family, and after her mother's death in 1877, she had kept house for her father and her six brothers. Her health broke under the strain and she was an invalid for some years. Mary E. Willson, S. Oliver Willson, Etha and Willson McClure never married but were always interested in the Willson family.

Marriages among the cousins began soon after the last birth. The first was McLeod Hays and Celia Yohe, who were married June 12, 1880.

John Thomas Hensleigh and Lizzie Cubit were married December 23, 1880. On their wedding day the Morning Sun band serenaded them, driving to the scene of the festivities in a wagon drawn by four horses. There were a hundred guests. They moved immediately to her father's farm one mile south of Morning Sun where they built the big square house a few years later and where they spent all the rest of their lives. They celebrated both their forty-fifth (1925) and fiftieth (1930) wedding anniversaries at the home of their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Hensleigh, across the road from their own home. At both of these celebrations Mr. Hensleigh wore his high topped wedding boots with the full Scotch projection soles, which he wore on his wedding day. He also wore the same black frock coat and the same watch chain and carried the same silk handkerchief which he carried at his wedding, Mr. Hensleigh died first, February 14, 1934 and his wife lived until June 25, 1941, both having lived to see their fifty-fourth anniversary.

The third wedding was the biggest of all. John A. Reid and Rachael Nancy Willson, daughter of John Willson were married at her home Dec. 15 1883. All the Willsons were there and as it was a lovely, pleasant winter day, Uncle John arranged us in rows in the yard facing the big front porch where the ceremony was performed by Rev. T. P. Robb. That wedding is my first distinct memory.

The fourth wedding was Anna Hensleigh to Hugh Martin, December 24, 1884. They had eight handsome children who all married. There were so many of them and their children, they soon began to celebrate their wedding anniversary with a family dinner and the custom is still kept up though both Mr. and Mrs. Martin have been dead some years. They first had a beautiful home in the country and later one in Mediapolis where they celebrated their golden wedding Dec. 24, 1934. A poem written for the occasion by Anna McElhinney, a grand daughter was read. The bride's cake was baked by the youngest daughter, Agnes Evans. Mr. Martin had come from Ireland when he was seventeen years old. Her parents celebrated their fifty-third, and her brother Thomas and wife their fifty-fourth anniversary.

Samuel T., Will R., David, and Cameron Willson made a nice wedding for their sister, Lalla, when she was married to David McElhinney, December 14, 1892. They were living on the William Hensleigh farm and Mrs. Jane McKibben and Miss Ellis Willson were living in an apartment in the house. All the rooms were needed for wedding guests. Mr. and Mrs. McElhinney lived most of their married life in Morning Sun. and celebrated their Golden Wedding at their home Dec. 14, 1942. Mr. McElhinney died May 25, 1947, and Mrs. McElhinney, Dec. 22, 1948.

Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Hays observed their Golden Wedding June 12, 1930 at their home in Burlington, Iowa.

None of the other cousins lived to celebrate their golden wedding. The only cousin couple living (1955) are J. O. and Margaret Willson Gloss, who were also the last to be married, October 12, 1910.

Perhaps you wonder how the food was served in those big affairs especially in the winter. At first, tables were set and sometimes as many as six tablefuls were seated one after another taking the whole afternoon or most of the night. Then Thomas Hensleigh had a brilliant idea. He made about twenty lap-boards two pieces of nicely planed twelve inch lumber about thirty inches long, held together by a neat cleat clear across each end. Later he made a rack that would hold these. A day or two before needed, they would be borrowed, and each one carefully covered with white news print. The day of the wedding or what not each board was set with service for four, and put in the rack.

Chunks of wood the right height, boxes or stools were put along the wall, long planks were laid on these, and folded comforters or blankets were used for cushions. Folks were seated on these close together. Chairs were put directly in front and folks on these. Now the young men played their part. A lapboard was carefully placed for each four people. When the boards were in place, food was passed as at a table. The menus were fairly standardized—chicken or turkey, baked or fried, stuffing, gravy, mashed potatoes, scalloped oysters celery, pickles (no salads) vegetables, ice cream and at least three kinds of cake, home made rolls and coffee.

JOHN ZACCHEUS WILLSON

E6—John Zaccheus Willson, born Jan. 31, 1784, died Feb. 7, 1871, married Dec. 19, 1814, Nancy McConnell born May 20, 1793, died Aug. 27, 1835, eight p.m. Elizabeth, Pa., buried in Round Hill burial ground. Covenanters. Quoting from Z. G. W. "Nancy was my mother. She was a silent woman, a most exemplary Christian, and a very kind and affectionate mother. In appearance she was tall and slender, black hair and eyes, and very mild in disposition."

Children:

F1—Mary Jane Willson-McKibben.
F2—Adam McConnell Willson
F3—Ellis (Ella) Willson.
F4—Zaccheus Gass Willson, wrote much of original manuscript.
F5—James Reynolds Willson
F6—Jehn E. Willson
F7—Samuel (Elliott) Willson
F8—Nancy Ann Willson-McClure
F9—Susanna Willson-Hensleigh
F10—Martha Torrence Willson-Hays

John Zaccheus Willson was born at the Forks of the Yough, one of eleven children. He farmed with his father. In Uncle Zaccheus' book written in 1858, he says that his father was in Ohio, the Spring of 1812 and visited some relatives there. James Reynolds (Lois Honeyman's father) in telling stories of their early life, said that his father had been with the soldiers in Ohio in their campaign against the Indians in eastern Ohio in 1812. This year (1955) I (Lois) tried to verify his being in the army but they had no card index with his name in the archives in Washington, D. C. The inscription on the monument was put there because of my recollection of this. I used the fact in an article published in 1923 and none of the twenty-five or thirty older cousins then living ever questioned it.

In 1814 he married his cousin, Nancy McConnell, who had just recently arrived from Ireland after a ten weeks trip across the stormy Atlantic Ocean. They had ten children. His wife died August 27, 1835, and he sold his farm in Pennsylvania in 1852 and put what he had with his son, John E., and they bought what is now part of the Jack Pilling farm a few miles east of Sharon church and and a few miles north of Mediapolis near Highway 61. Here he lived until his death in 1871. He is buried in Sharon cemetery, in a beautiful location half way between Aunt Nancy McClure's and Uncle Adam Willson's lot.

In 1955 Lois Willson Honeyman contacted about seventy-five second cousins and about seventy-five third cousins to secure donations to erect a stone on his lot. Her sister Anna who was ninety-three years old gave the first ten dollars because she was the only one living who remembered Grandfather. The rest responded graciously from one to ten dollars and a stone with this inscription was erected by Leyda, Burrus and Metz. On the front side: "JOHN ZACCHEUS WILLSON, born, Elizabeth, Pa., 1784, Married Nancy McConnell 1814, who died 1835. Moved to Iowa, 1852. Died Des Moines County, Iowa, 1871. Erected by his descendants 1955." On the back side: "Children of John Z. and Nancy Willson. Jane McKibben, Adam M. Willson, Ella Willson, Zaccheus Willson, James R. Willson, Samuel E. Willson, John E. Willson, Nancy Ann McClure, Susan Hensleigh, Martha Hays. These all lie in this cemetery."

He was much loved by his children for the "first born" son in every family bore his name:—John Zaccheus Willson, Zaccheus James Willson, John Elliott Willson, John Beza Willson, John William Hays, John Willson McClure, and John Thomas Hensleigh. A very unusual fact is that nine of these ten children were members of the Sharon Reformed Presbyterian church, and Zaccheus G. lived in St. Louis and was an elder in the R P church there. John and his brother Samuel were good singers and were precentors for the Sharon church choirs. John Zaccheus and his son James were elected elders in 1853, John Z. served until his death, 1871. His son James R. aged thirty years, served forty-three years until 1895 when he was certified to the Morning Sun congregation. He lived until 1914. A son John E. Willson was an elder, 1876—until his death, 1883. David T. Willson, a younger brother of John Z. Willson was elected elder in 1856 and served until his death in 1875. Another son Adam M. Wilson was a deacon. He died in 1876. For many years, nearly all our Willson's belonged to Sharon congregation. When I (Lois) was a girl I remember an uncle counted forty-eight of our family at one communion service. Now, we are scattered from New York to California and from Washington state to Florida.

Most of his forty grandchildren were also members at Sharon church early in life but many of them moved away and were later connected with different congrega-ions and denominations. None of his descendants own or live on any of the land once owned by his sons and sons-in-law. Quite a few are farmers but live on other farms.

MARY WILLSON McKIBBEN

F1—Mary Jane Willson, born Dec. 11, 1815, died Mar. 27, 1908, married Robert McKibben, 1871, farmer, Iberia, Ohio, died probably about 1881, Ohio. Had a son by his first marriage, Thomas.

When her mother died in 1835, Jane Willson broke her engagement to Robert McKibben, telling him she could not leave her father and her nine younger brothers and sisters. She came to Iowa with the others in 1852 and her home was still with her father and brother John, who in a few years married Nancy Elliott. For nearly twenty years she was busy helping care for the baby nieces and nephews that were being born to her married brothers and sisters. Mr. McKibben's wife died and in the late sixties he somehow got in touch with his former sweetheart, and they renewed their engagement. By that time the Willsons were becoming established and they united in giving her a beautiful trousseau and big wedding in the new house of her brother Adam. The McKibbens lived in Ohio until he died. She returned to Sharon community, and about 1893, with her sister Mrs. Nancy Ann McClure, built a duplex house in Morning Sun where she lived until her death in 1908. She liked her coffee strong but her sister preferred her coffee weak.

ADAM M. WILLSON

F2—Adam McConnell Willson, born Aug. 11, 1817, died Sept. 19. 1876, married Mrs. Ann Reid McClure, born April 11, 1830, died April 10, 1874, married about 1854, she was a first cousin of Whitelaw Reid and sister of Mrs. James Reynolds Willson. She had one son by her first marriage, John Robinson McClure (GIS).

ZACCHEUS G. WILLSON

F4—Zaccheus G. Willson, born June 21, 1821, died May 27, 1891, St. Cloud, Minn., married Mary Jane Gass, born 1834 died Mar. 31, 1923, married July 4, 1854.

A native of Allegheny county Pa., was a ship carpenter, and worked his way through Geneva college then located at Northwood, Ohio, and the only one of this generation to receive a college degree. He was a life-long Covenanter. While on his way to Iowa with the family in 1852, he stopped in St. Louis. He first established a private school at Park and Second Carondelet avenues. In 1858 he was appointed principal of the Mound school then located on the corner of 8th and Howard streets. In 1859 he was transferred to Everett school on 8th St. near Cass Ave. In 1867 the Clinton school building on Grattan street, was completed, he was transferred to the principalship of that school, where he remained until 1884, when he resigned and retired from teaching. He bought a farm near Glenwood, Minn., and spent the winters in Alexandria, Minn. The St. Louis Globe-Gazette says" He possesed rare qualities of mind and heart, and was a consistant Christian, an interesting companion and a true friend. His intelligence, integrity of character and gentle manner towards those with whom he came in contact endeared him to all. He possessed much literary tact and ability, and at one time was editor of the Western, a literary and educational journal published in St. Louis."

He spent his summers traveling and began work on this family tree during a vacation in Pennsylvania in 1858. Many summers were spent in Iowa, where he was a favorite with his nieces and nephews.

His wife brought his remains to Morning Sun for burial in the Sharon cemetery. The Globe-Gazette May 23 says "Mr. Willson, the eminent educator had hundreds of friends in St. Louis." Among the friends that attended the funeral of Prof. Willson at Sharon were: Mr. Stephenson of Des Moines, C. W. Gause and wife (his adopted daughter) of St. Louis, and A. C. Bird and family of Chicago. Mr. Bird is Traffic Manager of the Milwaukee Railway and came in his private car, which was a beauty, and stood on the siding all day. Child:

G1 - - May Willson married C. W. Gause of St. Louis and later moved to California. She drew charcoal drawing of J. Z. Willson, exhibit 1.

JAMES R. WILLSON

F5—James Reynolds Willson, born July 23, 1823, died Dec. 17, 1914, married Myrilla Reid, born Oct. 28, 1832, died Oct. 26, 1909, married Feb. 16, 1853 at her grandmother Robinson's home. Myrilla was a first cousin of Whitelaw Reid and sister of Adam's (M) wife. Their only brother was John R. Reid. Her mother probably Ann, died when she was two, and her father, probably James, died when she was eight. Most of the time they lived at grandfather Robinson's. Their father was an uncle of Whitelaw Reid, who was an editor of the New York Tribune and at the time of his death, the U. S. Ambassador to Great Britain. His body was brought home from London to be buried. While attending a prayer meeting in an Iowa home, James Reynolds Willson's eyes met Myrilla's in a mirror on the wall. They said it was love at first sight. One night they were going somewhere in a sled on a very cold night. Myrilla put her shawl around James and Anna McClure put hers around Adam which was the beginning of their courtship. James R. came to Iowa before the rest of the family and selected farms for the family which were taken out from the U. S. Government.

G11 - - Ella May Willson
G12 - - Rosa McKibben Willson
G13 - - Sarah Lois Willson-Honeyman

James R. came to Iowa before the rest of the family. The land James R. Willson chose on the Ridge, three miles west of Sharon church, consisted of three quarter sections: the one now owned by Robert McElhinney, first from about 1853 to 1891, the home of Samuel E. Wilson and family. After his death Will E. Willson bought out the other heirs and lived there until his death 1938. M. M. McElhinney owned it for several years and Robert and family live there and are owners.

Across the intersection southwest and across the road from Lloyd Reid's farm is the farm formerly owned by Adam M. Willson.

Both he and his wife died in middle age 1876 and 1874 and their two oldest children Martha E. and Zaccheus J. made a home there for their younger brothers and sisters until all were grown. Then Zach bought out the other heirs and with his family lived there until his death. His widow and sons sold out to Samuel Baird and Mrs. Baird is still the owner.

Across the road north and just west of the south part of Lloyd Reid's farm is the quarter owned and improved by James R. Willson and family. The south east forty of this quarter was long ago sold to David Reid, Lloyd's grandfather. Mr. and Mrs. Willson retired in 1896 and rented the farm, first to Beza Willson and from 1898 till Mr. Willson's death in 1914 to J. Z. Willson. Mattie and Lois received a share of the farm in 1914 after their father's death and in 1921 Adam sold his share to Anna. J. Z. lived on the place until after the death of his wife in 1923, and with his son Wesley, he lived on the farm. After C. B. Wilson's death it was rented to Verne Grim until 1934 when John, Mary and Anna sold it. Mr. Bonar bought it.

John Zaccheus and his son John E., together bought what is now part of the Jack Pilling farm a few miles east of Sharon church near Highway 61. Here John Zaccheus lived until his death.

MARY WILLSON

G2—Mary Elizabeth Willson, born June 26, 1855, died Oct. 14, 1939. As the eldest daughter in a large pioneer family she soon developed many practical skills. She cooked so well that she baked for and managed more than forty large weddings and receptions. She learned weaving of carpets and sewed so beautifully that she was able to sew even after she became almost blind, late in life. As a practical nurse, besides uncounted nights and weeks of caring for the sick in her own home and for relatives and neighbors, she took care of about sixty mothers and their babies.

She was forty-four years old when she was called by Rev. W. W. Carithers to a position as matron at the Indian Mission near Ft. Sill, Oklahoma. She went immediately and for five years, unaided except by the Indian children, she took care of a group of fifty, baking one hundred loaves of bread and a whole beef each week. She liked to recall these busy years and never lost her interest in the Mission but the work was hard and she came home physically and nervously worn out. She was almost an invalid for several years but after her mother died in 1909, she cared for her aged father until he died five years later. For a time she lived alone, then opened her heart and home to the Honeyman children, caring for them while their mother taught school. Almost eleven years before she died, her health failed, then blindness came, relieved for a few years by an operation, but the last three years she was completely blind and for two years was unable to leave her home. She was a life long member of the Reformed Presbyterian church.

Gitta, is a Hungarian, and proud of it though born in Vienna, was at the Univ. in Paris at the outbreak of the war. She worked for two years with the Auxiliare Sociale caring for refugee children first in Paris then when the Germans came in moved with a group of children to the chateau of Villandry near Tours. During the occupation several of her group helped English fliers who had been shot down to escape to England. She was warned by a German officer whom she had met as an interpreter that she was in danger, and escaped through the mountains to Spain, Portugal and the U S, where she joined her mother and step-father, Prof. von Mises (now consulting economist to the NAM). She went on several lecture tours in high schools and colleges through-out the U S, in 1942-43, and again in 1947, after two years as a welfare officer with UNRRA working in DP camps in Germany. In the course of these lectures (mainly discussing young people in the midst of war and its aftermath) she developed the Adopt-a-school-in-Europe Plan, whereby hundreds of schools were adopted by American schools, who exchanged letters, photos, and provided such supplies as coal, books, pencils, food and other necessities. She was on her way to Vienna to talk to the thirtynine schools there which had been adopted through her plan, to tell them about the school's in America which had adopted them, when Don met her in Paris. They were engaged in Zurich, Switzerland and married in Vienna, Austria, at the Presbyterian church, honeymooned in Salzburg, a widely traveling romance. The Vienna Boys' Choir, thirty-nine in number furnished music for the wedding. They were old friends of Gitta since Paris, where she had shown them around the city. They each gave her a gift of a potted flower, and presented it in person. Citta completed her residence requirements for American citizenship last year and became a citizen in the mass ceremony Fall of 1954 in which more than 50, 000 new citizens were admitted. She speaks several languages.

Donald attended Morning Sun high school, won Brain Derby at Iowa City. 1936 and received a scholarship to the University of Iowa, and received a B A degree 1940. Pa., sometime between April 15, 1828 (when his will was made) and June 15, 1831 (when the will was probated). This will is on record in Reg. of Will Office of Washington Co. Pa. in Will Book 4, page 600. His place of residence during the Revolution was Washington Co. Pa. Anna Elizabeth Stecher, daughter of Lewis and Maria Mellinger Stecher, was mother of Abraham Yohe, who was father of Celia Hays.

The following is given about David Mellinger, who was the father of Maria (mentioned above). The name David Mellinger appears upon a receipt roll for payment for services in the War of the Revolution in 1782. Pa. Archives 6th Series, Vol. 2. page 351. The name spelled Mellinder, appears upon a list of soldiers who served from Westmoreland Co., War of the Revolution, Pa. Archives Vol. 4, 5th Series, page 750. In Pa. Archives, Series 3, Vol. 23, pag 223 he is named with the Rangers of the Frontiers 1778-1783

David Mellinger came to Washington Co. from Westmoreland, Co., Pa., about the year 1790 when he bought the farm from Robert McDuggey and his wife, Rachael and from Benjamin Collin and Catherine, his wife. This farm is near and a part of Finleyville, Pa.

He died between Jan. 2 (when his will was made) and Feb. 18, 1800 (when his will was probated). He was buried on the farm, along a line fence, on the farm on which he lived. The head stones have been destroyed. My father remembers seeing them and many relatives and people in this neighborhood tell of the stones being there until recent years. His national number—69364.

From Kewanee, Ill. Newspaper:
Colonel Ends Air Force Career, July 31, 1953

Military ceremonies at McClellan Air Force Base, Sacramento, Calif., marked the retirement of Col. Frank Martyn Paul, USAF, a former Kewaneean, after 36 years service which included 32 months with the European Theater of Operations in World War 11.

A citation presented to Col. Paul through his devotion to flying and appreciation of sound flying techniques, has contributed immeasurably to Air Force progress and his actions reflect great credit upon himself and the United States Air Force.

Col. Paul graduated from Kewanee high school in 1913. He attended University of Illinois until 1917 when he enlisted as a flying cadet in aviation section of the signal corps. He received his wings and was flying instructor at Kelly Field Texas until June 1918. He served at Scott Field and was then sent to Douglas Arizona for Mexican border and forest fire patrol.

He was then transferred to Chanute Field where he was on base duty five years. The next three years were spent in service in Hawaii. He served four years at Maxwell Field, Ala., two years at Fort Leavenworth, Kans., and five years at Fort Monroe, Va.

ACHESON-ATCHISON FAMILY

This is a little information about the family of Jacob Ward Willson's wife Sarah Acheson's, brothers and sisters. This is taken from the "Acheson-Atchison Family", compiled by Mrs. Nellie Wilkin Cooke, Sterling, Kansas, 1953.

A(1)—John Acheson (Atchison) Sr. married Catherine (Clarke?) about 1733. Lived (1710-1778). On Sept. 5, 1738, he warranted 253 acres in Little Brittian twp., Lancaster Co., Pa., one and one-fourth miles north of Little Brittain, Pa. According to deed records at Lancaster., Pa., John lived on this farm until his death about March 1778. He sold 126 acres of it to his son, John, about August 1770. The invoice of the estate of John Sr. is on file at Lancaster, Pa. His will written on August 7, 1776, and probated in 1778, mentions three sons and three daughters:

B1 - Matthew Acheson
B2 - Humphrey Acheson
B3 - John Acheson married Ramsey
B4 - Ann Acheson
B5 - Christine Acheson
B6 - Catherine Acheson

B1 - Matthew Acheson and wife are buried at Oak Springs(Chartiers United Presbyterian) cemetery at Cannonsburg, Pa. He owned 500 acres in Mt. Pleasant twp., two and one-half miles north of Hickory in Washington County, Pa. His will was probated same day as Humphrey's.

B2 - Humphrey Acheson (Atchison) son of John,Sr. (1740-1814), born in Lancaster County, Pa., married Rebecca Reed, daughter of Captain John Reed, about 1765. In 1767, they (Humphrey and Rebecca) had a farm in lower Little Brittain twp., Lancaster Co., Pa. Moved to Mt. Pleasant twp., Washington County, Pa., in 1785 and took up land. He taught school, also served in the Washington Co. Militia during the Revolutionary War.

His will and his brother Matthew's were probated same day. Second marriage to Mrs. Hull, no children by this marriage. He died in or near Hickory, Washington Co., Pa., in 1814, and it is very likely that Humphrey is buried at Oak Springs cemetery at Cannonsburg, Pa.

B3 - John Acheson (1774-1835) born in Lancaster Co. Pa., married Sarah Ramsey in Washington Co. Pa. They moved to Bloomfield, Ohio, about 1820, Muskingum, county.

Child:

C1 - David Ramsey Acheson (1797-1854) born in Lancaster Co. Pa., married Elizabeth Law (1806-1865) in 1822. They moved from Ohio to Muscatine, Iowa, in 1854, within the same year he and a son died in an epidemic of cholera, they were members of the Seceder church.

Child:

D1 - Sarah Acheson, born Aug. 29, 1823, Bloomfield, Ohio, died Sept. 1873, Denison, Kans., married Jacob Ward Willson, son of Robert McLeod and Amelia (Hayden) Willson, born Sept. 15, 1823, Lisbon, Pa., died Dec. 14, 1901, Denison, Kans., married Dec. 9 1847, New Concord, Ohio.

(See Robt. McLeod Willson Genealogy, compiled by Mrs. Robt. A. Hughes, 12 Hanley Downs, St. Louis, Mo.) which follows:

ROBERT McLEOD WILLSON

E 10 - Robert McLeod Willson, born May 4, 1799, Elizabeth township, Allegheny Co. Pa., Forks of Yough, died Oct. 25, 1858, Yatton, now Columbus City, Louisa county, Iowa, married Amelia Hayden, born Jan. 20, 1795, New Jersey (census record), died Dec. 15, 1872 at Yatton, now Columbus City, Iowa, married Nov. 3, 1821, likely at Elizabeth Co. Pa., where their first child was born.

Ref: 1850 census, Highland twp., Muskingum Co., Ohio.

Children:

F1 - Samuel B. Willson, married Jane (wife at his death), 1850 census, Muskingum Co., Ohio, (says Martha is wife's name).

H6 - Foster child Iris Galloway, in Arizona, took when nine years old. From Osceola, Mo. newspaper: Following her father's death, 1881, she helped her mother with the younger children. She accepted the responsibility of the young and needy throughout her life. Her home was open to the ill or orphaned. The doctors pronounced Martha incurably ill with t. b. in 1895, but she made a trip from Kansas to Colorado in a covered wagon regained her health and raised her reduced weight of 95 pounds back to 180 pounds. In 1901 moved to Mo., St. Clair Co. When she was widowed, 1881, she worked in a church orphanage, Tabor, Iowa for six years. The last 25 years of her life she lived again in St. Clair Co., first at Mr. Van Dyke's farm near Ohio, and later on the Osceola route. Martha had been in failing health for some time and bedfast since before Christmas. She suffered a paralytic stroke two weeks before her death. Rev. W. S. Bayne recognized her early acceptance of the Christ as her personal Savior and her faithful adherence to her church throughout a long and useful life of service in the brief message at Osceola, Mo. Funeral Home parlor. Gravesite rites by C. E. Higgins. Her daughter, Mrs. Lindstrom, was able to be here before her mother's death and remain for the funeral.

G6 - Renwick Roy Findley married Jefferson

G7 - Ed. Scott Findley married Remmy

Copied from "History of the State of Kansas," Chicago, A. T. Antress, 1883, page 1220. "J. P. Findley, farmer, P. O. Chautauqua Springs, was born in Muskingum Co., Ohio, 1832. In 1855, moved to Mercer Co., Ill. until 1870, when he emigrated to Kansas, locating in Howard Co. and took a claim before the land was surveyed. The nearest point on a railroad was about 80 miles, and for a time he had to go that distance for supplies and there were but very few settlers. His Claim is on Section 10, Twp. 35, Range 11. He has 200 acres, watered by two fine springs, which furnish plenty of water; has 120 acres of timber and 50 acres under cultivation, 90 acres fenced, four acres of orchard, in full condition and with a full variety. The place is well stocked with 40 head of cattle, a number of horses and other stock. Mr. Findley has been very successful and has a choice place now three-fourths of a mile from Chautauqua Springs. He was married in 1856 at Wapello, Ia., to Miss Sarah Willson. The seven children are: Annie May, Lillie J., Maggie W., Amelia, Bruce, Roy and Ed. He is a member of the United Brethren church.

From Sedan, Kans. paper Sarah Findley obituary in part: married John Findley, who was a kind and faithful husband until his death Oct. 26, 1909. To this union were born seven children all of whom were present at their mother's death except a daughter of Cleveland, Ohio. Mother Findley came with her husband and family to the farm near Chautauqua, which has been their home since March 4, 1871. She is an old settler and has endeared herself, by loving kindness, to all who knew her.

About forty-five years ago she joined the United Brethren church and since that time has been an active and faithful member. She will be greatly missed by the church and all of its workers. She was a steadfast worker for God and her faith was beautiful. Just a few days before her death she said, "My time has come but I need not worry for I am ready." The end was sad, but beautiful, coming just at sunset, with her children gathered round caring for her and making her last hours comfortable and happy ones. Funeral was conducted from the U B church at Chautauqua, July 29, at 3 o'clock p. m. by Rev. Howell of Eld City and the remains were tenderly laid to rest by the side of her husband in the family cemetery on the old farm where she had lived so many years. The grandsons officiated as pall bearers and a large crowd of sorrowing friends were in attendance. The bereaved family has the sympathy of the entire community in the loss of their loved and loving mother."

Following are remarks of their children, Margaret and Bruce and Mrs. Mae Hughe's mother, Dorrit (Donelson) Walker, their grand-daughter; John P. and Sarah (Willson) Findley traveled from Keithsburg, Ill., in 1870 by covered wagon in the company with another family by the name of Scott, to Chetopa, Kans., where he left the family for the winter and went on west and homesteaded a place where he cut the logs and built a house. He never owned a firearm, traveled with his Bible and several song books. During his life on the old homestead, he planted three orchards, the first one was all apple trees.

The Findley home was always open to friends and neighbors and a place of entertainment for church delegates, preachers and church gatherings. It was a house of hospitality for young folks on Sundays and all the descendants loved to go to Grandpa and Grandma Findleys. The old home was in the hands of some of the children until the spring of 1947 when it was sold.

JOHN MILLER WILSON

H1—John Miller Wilson, born Albia, Iowa, Oct. 1, 1869, died Mar. 1956, at Moore's home buried Forest Lawn Memorial Park, married Laura Edith Lawhead, 1906, Pasadena, born April 15, 1880, died Sept. 1955. Address: 805 Hudson, Pasadena, Calif. He graduated from Monmouth, 1899 and Ill. State University, Presbyterian church.

Dr. John Miller Wilson will receive special honor at the annual meeting of the California Medical Association in San Francisco next month, June 1955, citing his fifty years service as a physician.

The tribute followed a similar citation this week by the staff of Huntington hospital when Lyle C. Craig, M. D. in a "this is your life" type of presentation recalled Dr. Wilson's 50 years of medical practice in Pasadena. The long time member of Huntington hospitals staff received a letter signed by fellow workers expressing appreciation and esteem. The ceremony in San Francisco will include the award of a gold pin.

A specialist in cardiology for the past thirty years Dr. Wilson came to Pasadena from Iowa in 1905, opening his first office in Colorado near Las Robles. His early years of practice were conducted with bicycle transportation according to Dr. Craig's speech of presentation. Horse and buggy served for the more distant calls. Pasadena had 12,000 residents and 75 doctors of whom Dr. Wilson is one of the few still continuing his work in the medical field.

Dr. Wilson brought the first electrocardiograph machine to Pasadena in the early 20's after graduate work in cardiology at the Boston City hospital, the Massachusetts General hospital and the Michael Reese hospital in Chicago. His ensuing practise has been largely as a heart specialist in which capacity he also served as a member of the Huntington staff.

Dr. Craig paid tribute to the 86 year old physician for his many years of dedication to the truest practise of medicine and for maintaining the qualities that have aided his patients and inspired his associates. (End of California clipping).

(From Morning Sun Iowa News-Herald) Miller Wilson, as he is known to his friends in Morning Sun, came to Iowa from Colorado at the age of four with his brother, the late Rev. R. L. Wilson, of Washington, Iowa, and his parents. His mother was a sister of Charles B. Wilson and his father John Jamison Wilson was a cousin of Mrs. Charley McElhinney. When they arrived in Morning Sun they resided at the home of his grandfather James X Wilson in the brick house located on what is now the Ralph Wilson home place. His father died soon and is buried in Rice cemetery.

The boys, Miller and Lincoln, attended Honey Creek school, Tarkio and Monmouth colleges. When they were about fifteen years old their mother bought the farm three miles east of Morning Sun on Highway 78 where Donald Stapp now lives, and for many years it was known as the Maggie Wilson corner. Lincoln was the first to go to Monmouth, and Miller stayed at home to farm with his uncle Will G. Wilson. Lincoln persuaded them that Miller should go too, so Margaret moved to Monmouth, Ill., to send her boys to college. She was killed by a hit and run driver and is buried in Pasadena. Dr. Wilson's home address is 65 N. Madison Ave., Pasadena (1), California. There is a nice iron fence around the estate and he has a summer home at Redondo Beach. Mrs. Miller Wilson, a graduate of Oberlin college, was a poet, and published at least one book of poetry about Mexico which she visited with her husband. They made many trips, some of them abroad. Dr. Wilson's office is at 805 Hudson, Pasadena. Besides his son, there are two nurses and five doctors assisting him. See appendix for information.

He was editor and publisher of "Olive Trees" a missionary magazine for six years, also associate editor of Covenanter Witness several years, and Ed-in-Chief one year.

"Who's Who" among the religious leaders of America places Dr. Wilson upon the highest pinacle of success in the ecclesiastical field, and his services and counsel are sought throughout North America.

In 1931 Dr. Wilson and his wife were members of a deputation sent to visit RP mission fields in Near East going by way of London, Paris, Geneva, Switzerland, and the Mediterranean to the Island of Cyprus, Syria, and Turkey. They visited the Holy Land by motor car, and later journeyed to Egypt and saw the mission work in Cairo. In a letter to the writer (Mrs. Hughes) some years ago Dr. Wilson refers to this trip as one of the most rewarding experiences of his entire life.

Through the years he has been ably assisted by his good wife who is cultured, Christian lady, eminently qualified for the many duties incident to her lot as the wife of a preacher whose duties and responsibilities are exceptionally heavy.

Of the many Fox Creek boys and girls who achieved outstanding success in life Findley Wilson stands high in the list. As a boyhood schoolmate and college classmate, the writer recalls that Findley was a good student, and early manifested an aptitude for public speaking. He has been eminently successful in his chosen profession, and today recognized as one of the outstanding preachers of the country. His old Fox Creek friends are proud of his success.

H5—John Walker Wilson, born Aug. 22, 1874, Freeland, Ohio, m. Feb. 8, 1900, Pittsburg, Pa., to Mary Patterson, daughter of Andrew W. and Hannah (George). Address: 3513 5th Ave., Beaver Falls, Pa. Took grade school training at Fox Creek. Continued studies in Dept. of Music in Muskingum college. Took course in butter and cheese making at Ohio State University, completing the course with highest honors. For some years he was employed in creameries in Byesville and New Concord as Operating Superintendent. He then spent several years in Pittsburg, Pa., and Youngstown, Ohio. 1904 moved to Beaver Falls, where he accepted position with Keystone Driller Co. Mfg. of well drills, pumps and power shovels. After advancing to the position of Chief Office Clerk and asst. to the general manager in the sales department of the company he resigned and established a business in Youngstown in order to represent Keystone Driller Co. and other mfg. companies as district sales agent. This business has increased until at present he represents some eight or ten of the most prominent manufacturers of construction, industrial and mining machinery. The business is conducted under the name of J. Walker Wilson Machinery Co. He is a member of Associated Equipment Distributors, an International organization.

He always devoted much time to religious and educational work. Served as elder in RP church for more than 40 years, member of Board of Trustees of Geneva college for more than 20 years, and a member of Board of Corporators of Geneva for several years. Members of College Hill RP church, Beaver Falls, Pa. Chairman of Elders Conference at Synod June 1943-June 1945. Member of committee of RP church to keep file of those in armed forces. JAMES RENWICK WILLSON

Son of Zaccheus and Mary (McConnell) Willson, was born at the "forks of the Yough", near Elizabeth, Allegheny Co., Pa., April 9, 1780. His ancestors were sturdy Covenanters who came to America in 1713, and settled in the Cumberland Valley in Eastern Penn. In 1769, the family removed to "the forks of the Yough". His father was a farmer in which occupation he also engaged until his twenty-first year. In 1795, he connected with the Associate Reformed Church, but transferred his membership to the Covenanter Church in 1798. In 1801, he entered Jefferson Academy, and graduated with first honors from Jefferson College. in 1805. His theological studies were pursued during his last collegiate year at Cannonsburgh, Pennsylvania, under the direction of the Rev. Dr. John McMillan, also two years under the care of the Rev. Dr. Alexander McLeod, of New York, and he was licensed by the Middle Committee of the Reformed Presbytery, June 9, 1807. In 1809, he became Principal of the Academy of Bedford, Penn. In 1815 he took charge of a classical school in Philadelphia, and also established a Mission in "the Neck," where his labors were very successful. He was ordained by the Northern Presbytery, and installed pastor of the united congregations of Coldenham and Newburgh, Orange County, New York, Aug. 10, 1817. In 1823, the Newburgh branch was dropped and he remained at Coldenham until his resignation in 1830. He was installed pastor of the congregation of Albany, New York, September 17, 1830, and remained in charge three years. He returned to Coldenham, where he was re-installed November 21, 1833, and resuscitated the Coldenham Academy. He was chosen Professor of Theology in 1836, and the Eastern Seminary, located at Coldenham, New York, was established October 12, 1838, where he was the preceptor for two years. At the union of the Eastern and the Western Seminaries, creating the Allegheny Seminary, he resigned his charge at Coldenham, June 26, 1840, and accepted a professorate in the new institution. The Seminary was removed to Cincinnati, Ohio, in 1845 where he was the sole professor, and stated supply to the congregation of that city for four years In 1849, the Seminary was removed to Northwood, Ohio, where he was exonerated from duty in 1851, and retired as Emeritus Professor. During the remaining two years of his life he resided with his son, the Rev. Dr. James M. Willson, in Philadelphia, and spent the summers in Coldenham, New York, where he died at the house of Mr. John Beattie, of old age, and under the affliction of a fractured limb, Sept. 29, 1833. He lies buried in the graveyard of Coldenham, in the very spot above which stood the pulpit of the old church where he so long preached. He married Miss Jane Roberts of Cannonsburg, Pennsylvania, in 1807. Without exception he was the most powerful preacher the Covenanter Chuch in America has ever produced, and, in intellectual grasp, classical scholarship, and pulpit eloquence, ranked among the first preachers of the country. He possessed every physical attribute of the orator. His height was over six feet, his shoulders broad, his voice sonorous, his eye brilliant; and, his wide range of information in every department of literature, his ready command of language, and his intense earnestness, rendered him at once an attractive speaker upon any subject. His was the career of a great man. His style was generally distinguished for perspicuity of statement, simplicity of method, and beauty of illustration. His imagination was at once active and elevated, and when it took possession of him he was overwhelming in the majesty of his descriptions, and the awful character of his denunciations. At the time of his settlement in Newburgh, New York, there existed a hot-bed of infidelity. The followers of Tom Paine held sway, profaning sacred rites in the most public and shameless manner—even administering the symbols of the Saviour's death to dogs. He at once inaugurated the battle. His boldness in proclaiming the truth, the power of his arguments, the overwhelming force of his eloquence, the fearful warnings, and clear prophetic denunciations, attracted the whole community as they hung upon his burning words. Some shocking death-bed scenes, which seemed to be in fulfillment of his threatenings, alarmed many, and gradually the whole place became reformed. During his residence in Albany, he was frequently called upon to open the Legislature with prayer. His fame soon became known as he denounced the ungodliness of that body, and the wickedness of the city. The Legislature feared his prayers. When he preached his famous sermon "Prince Messiah" the Legislature discussed it for a whole sitting, and denounced the author in the most violent terms. The prayers of such a man were (by a unanimous vote), banished from the legislative halls. The sermon was consumed in a public bonfire, and the author burned in effigy before the State House door. He was prominent in the controversy that resulted in the division of the Church in 1833, and a champion of the portion adhering to the principles of the Church. He was a well-read historian, and published many articles on the history of the Church. He had a large acquaintance with public and religious men. He was eminently a man of prayer, and was accustomed to carry all matters to the Throne of Grace. He had no disrelish for social pleasantry, but his mind was usually occupied with themes of momentous import. He was a very successful teacher, and had knowledge of twelve languages of most of which he was master. He was an American patriot at the same time a consistent and ardent covenanting protestant against the evils of the country, and the infidelity of the Constitution of the United States. An address delivered at Newburgh, New York, upon the occasion of the burial of the bones of some Revolutionary heroes has been pronounced as one of the most eloquent and beautiful discourses in the English language. He left his impress as a great man upon every department of literary work. He was a profuse writer upon various subjects. The following are his most valued publications extant: "Historical Sketch of Opinions on the Atonement," 1817, pp. 350. "Subjection of Kings and Nations to Messiah," 1819. "Civil Government," 1821. "Dr. Watts an Anti-Trinitarian," 1821. "Honour to Whom Honour is Due," 1822. "The Book of Life of the Lamb," 1824. "The Glory and Security of the Church of God," 1824. "Political Danger," 1825. "The American Jubilee," 1825. "The Sabbath and the Duty of the Nation to Keep It," 1829. "Prince Messiah's Claims to Dominion Over All Governments," 1832. "Tokens of Divine Displeasure in the Conflagration of New York," 1835 "The Written Law," 1840. "Public Covenanting," 1848. He was editor of the Evangelical Witness, a monthly, 1822-26; also of the Albany Quarterly, 1832 1834. He was honored with degree of Doctor of Divinity by the Western University of Pennsylvania, in 1828. He was Moderator of the Synod of 1823.

JAMES McLEOD WILLSON

Son of Rev. James Renwick and Jane (Roberts) Wilson, was born at "the forks of the Yough," near Elizabeth, Allegheny County, Penn., Nov. 17 1809. From childhood he was apt in the acquisition of learning and most diligent in his studies, his godly parents, who were uncompromising in their attachments to the principles of the Covenanter Church, being disposed to educate him for the ministry. He received instruction in the classics under his reputed father, who was Principal of the Academy of Bedford Penn. and also attended classical schools taught by his father in Philadelphia, Penn. and Newburgh, New York. In due time he entered the senior class and graduated from Union College in 1829. He taught for some time in the Academy of Belair, Maryland also, in Schodack New York and was Principal of the High School in Troy New York. He studied theology under the direction of his father and was licensed by the Southern Presbytery, June 5, 1834, and ordained by the same Presbytery, and installed pastor of the First congregation of Philadelphia, Penn. Nov. 27, 1834. He was elected Professor of Theology in the Allegheny Seminary, May 31, 1859, which office he filled with great acceptance for three successive sessions while retaining his pastoral charge in Philadelphia. These accumulated labors, requiring a separation from his congregation for six months in the year, were too onerous, and he resigned the congregation, Oct. 28, 1862. He removed to the city of Allegheny, Penn, where he continued to devote himself to the proper work of the Seminary until his death

He had long been a subject to headache and the nervous energy and locomotion of his left side were impaired. This affliction was followed by a syncopal attack, terminating in a serious hypertrophy, from which he died at his residence in Allegheny, Penn., Aug. 31, 1866, and he was buried in Monument cemetery at Philadelphia. He married, Miss Rebecca Burt, of Schenectady, New York, April 30, 1833. He was a clear logical and eminently instructive preacher, but not an attractive speaker. His discourses were always profoundly thought out and generally doctrinal, argumentative and practical. He was a faithful and kind pastor and his strict disciplinary reproofs were in plainness of speech, though not calculated to offend His great power was in debate and he was a moulder of opinions upon the floor of Synod.

He took an important part in the discussion agitating the Church and was almost invincible in an argument. He was the representative of the deacon question, and strongly discussed such questions as slavery, voluntary associations, temperance and the issues of the war of the rebellion. His complete knowledge of the history and the principles of the Covenanter church, together with his proficient scholarship and ripe experience, eminently fitted him for the position which he held in the Theological Seminary. Coincident with his indefatigable labors as pastor and professor, he edited the Covenanter from 1845 until its consolidation with the Reformed Presbyterian in 1863, and was an editor of the joint publication until his death. Through this medium he fearlessly battled for truth and righteousness against all opposition. Besides his able editorial work, he emitted the following publications: "The Deacon," 1841, pp. 76. "Bible Magistracy," 1842, pp 122. "A Treatise on Psalmody," 1848, pp. 42. "Civil Government," 1853, pp. 162. "Social Religious Covenanting," 1856, pp. 36. "Witnessing," 1861, pp. 31, and other pamphlets of minor import. Being a public spirited man he was connected with all the Mission Boards and literary and benevolent institutions. He was honored with the degree of Doctor of Divinity by Westminster College in 1865. He was Moderator of the Synod of 1859.

RENWICK ZACCHEUS WILLSON

Son of Rev. James Renwick and Jane (Roberts) Willson, was born in Bedford, Bedford County, Pennsylvania, June 19, 1813. In 1815, his parents removed to Philadelphia, and in 1817, to Coldenham, New York where he received his early education in the Academy conducted by his distinguished father. Before he had completed the prescribed course of study, he was afflicted with a disease of the eyes, which greatly impeded his progress in obtaining an education. He studied theology in the Coldenham and Allegheny Seminaries and was licensed by the Pittsburgh Presbytery, installed pastor of the congregation of Craftsbury, Orleans County, Vermont, November 17, 1846 and resigned this charge, December 18, 1855. He removed to Southern Illinois and served the Church as a Home Missionary, and in this capacity he labored until his death, at his home in the city of New York, from a relapse of typhoid fever, June 4, 1872. He married Miss Margaret Biggam, of New York City, Nov 10, 1846. He was not a popular preacher, but his discourses were profondly intellectual, logical and argumentative. He spent the best days of his life in the New York Mission. The character of the work changed the style of his preaching and he became sympathetic, illustrative, and exhortatory in his manner. He saw so much of the misery and ruin entailed by strong drink, that he became exceedingly earnest in the cause of temperance. He was a man of truthfulness and uprightness in every transaction, much given to prayer and evinced a rich Christian experience. He was well posted in Church law and order, and, understanding perfectly the government and history of the church, was a safe and wise counsellor.

SAMUEL McCONNELL WILLSON

Son of Zaccheus and Mary (McConnell) Willson, was born at the "Forks of Yough" near Elizabeth, Allegheny County, Penn., July 17, 1796. With the ministry in view he pursued his classical studies in the Bedford Academy, under the direction of his brother the Rev. James R. Willson, and finished the course in the Philadelphia Academy in 1817. He studied theology under the direction of the Rev. S. B. Wylie, of Philadelphia, Penn., and was licensed by the Philadelphia Presbytery, June 19, 1820. He was ordained by the Northern Presbytery, installed pastor of the congregation of Galway, Saratoga County, New York, October 14, 1821, and resigned this charge, May 16, 1827. For five years he was engaged in teaching in Coldenham and Albany, New York and also preaching as opportunity was afforded. He was installed pastor of the congregation of Craftsbury, Orleans County, Vermont, May 19, 1833 and resigned this charge, May 10, 1845. He was installed pastor of the congregation of Kortright, Delaware County, New York, October 22, 1845, where he continued to labor until his death, by a very painful disease, January 21, 1864. He was twice married. First to Miss Ann Barclay, of Montgomery, New York, in 1821; and second to Miss Ann McClaury, of Kortwright, New York in 1854. He was a remarkably clear, concise and systematic preacher, but not an eloquent speaker. He was well-read in theological works. His style of presenting truth was not imaginative and his discourses were adorned with illustrations, except a few drawn from actual life. He excelled in prayer and his soul was filled with the importance and preciousness of the doctrines of grace. During the division of the Church in 1833, he adhered without faltering, to her true position. He was a bold and enthusiastic advocate of the cause of the oppressed slave, and entered with earnestness into the reforms where the welfare of men and the glory of God were to be promoted. He was a judicious counsellor, a wise legislator and regular in his attendance upon Church courts where his opinion was of weight. He was a true

Christian, conscientious in the performance of religious duties, faithful to the ecclesiastical and social ties which bound him to his God, his Church, and his family. He was an associate editor of the Albany Quarterly, 1832-1834. He was Moderator of the Synods of 1836 and 1856.

His nephew Zaccheus G. Willson, of Elizabeth, Penn.; Muskingum College; Northwood Seminary one session, and privately under Illinois Presbytery two sessions, ending in 1854; Principal of Public Schools in St. Louis, Missouri, for many years; now living in Glenwood, Minnesota.

R. B. CANNON

Robert Brown Cannon, D. D., son of Rev. John and Martha (Brown) Cannon was born near Greensburgh,, Westmoreland Co., Pa., Oct. 4, 1821. He received his early education under the direction of his father studied the classics under the Rev. Hugh Walkinshaw, finished the classical course in the Greensburgh Academy, and graduated from the Western University of Pa., in 1842. He was Principal of the Darlington Academy one year. He studied theology in the Allegheny and Cincinnati Seminaries, and was licensed by the Lakes Presbytery, May 7, 1846. He was ordained by the Pittsburgh Presbytery and installed pastor of the United congregations of Greensburgh, Westmoreland Co., and Clarksburgh, Indiana Co., Pa., May 5, 1847 and resigned this charge April 4, 1854. He was installed pastor of the Rehobeth congregation, Wyman, Louisa Co., Iowa Dec. 14, 1854, and resigned Dec. 17, 1867. He was installed pastor of the congregation of Vernon, Wisc., Sept. 13, 1872 and resigned May 28, 1878. He removed to Cameron, Mo., and labored under appontment of the Central Board of Missions, and also preached for two years gratuitously to the colored people of that place. He was installed pastor of the Jonathan's Creek congregation, White Cottage, Ohio, Sept. 9, 1886. He was honored with the degree of Doctor of Divinity by the University of Iowa, in 1868. Died Nov. 9, 1900, Chicago, Illinois, from flu.

ANDREW STEVENSON

F3 - Andrew Stevenson, D. D., son of John and Isabella (Brown) Stevenson, was born in Ballibay Co., Monaghan, Ireland, Jan. 10, 1810. His early life was full of trials and hardships. By the death of his godly father in 1818, the family was left in straightened circumstances and having acquired sufficient knowledge, he began to teach a private school in the neighborhood. By constant teaching and hard study he educated himself and frequently recited to the Rev. J. P. Sweeny. In 1831, he was chosen by the Irish Synod as a Catechist to accompany the Rev. Wm. Sommerville to the British N. A. Provinces. He accepted this appointment, and Missionated for two years, principally among the societies of New Brunswick. In 1833, he came to the city of Philadelphia, Pa., where he opened a classical school, and conducted it successfully for several years. He studied theology privately under Revs. Drs. J. R. Willson and James Christie and was licensed by the Southern Presbytery, May 15, 1839. He was ordained by the same Presbytery and installed pastor of the Second congregation of the City of New York, Nov. 14, 1839, where he continued to labor with marked success until impaired health caused him to retire from active duty as emeritus pastor May 17, 1875. The illness which terminated his life was of long duration and intense suffering. He was almost entirely prevented from attending the public ordinances for the last two years of his life. After various attacks of pneumonia, his disease assumed a chronic form, combined with senile bronchitis, from which he died at his residence in the city of New York, June 24, 1881. He was a man of fine personal appearence, possessing the power of attracting others to him, and impressing his individuality upon them. He was not regarded as an eloquent preacher, but a clear, cogent and conscientious imparter of divine truth, whose discourses were practical, and forcibly applied. He was an organizer. This is where his great success lay. He always found something for every one to do. He took a great interest in emigrants coming from the sister churches beyond the ocean, frequently finding them employment, and by his kindness and attention gathered them into the Church. . He was closely attached to Covenanter principles and freely and fearlessly proclaimed them from the pulpit. His influence and power in the Church will long be remembered, notwithstanding he was frequently drawn into earnest debate with his brethren. He was long and actively connected with the Board of Foreign Missions, and other benevolent associations. He was honored with the degree of Doctor of Divinity by the University of the City of New York in 1865. He was Moderator of Synod of 1869.

R. E. WILLSON

R. E. Willson, son of Samuel Ewing and Sarah (Elliott) Willson, born July 4, 1879, on a farm three miles southwst of Morning Sun, Iowa. His parents were reared near Elizabethtown, Pennsylvania. and came to the Sharon neighborhood in the year 1852. He was baptized in the Sharon church, and united with this same Reformed Presbyterian congregation as a young man. The pastor at the time was the Rev. T. P. Robb, D D. He attended the District School and the Morning Sun High School, graduating in 1898. Following this he entered Geneva College. at Beaver Falls, Pa., graduating June, 1905, as Valedictorian of his class. In October of the same year he entered the Reformed Presbyterian Seminary in what was then the city of Allegheny, Penn., and graduated April 29, 1908. He also studied Arabic and Hebrew in the Princeton Seminary in 1916-17. He was licensed to preach the Gospel by Iowa Presbytery May 14, 1907. He was ordained to the Gospel Ministry by Iowa Presbytery in the Sharon Church Sept. 10, 1908 for work as a Foreign Missionary in the Levant. On July 9, 1908, he was united in marriage with Margaret May Kilpatrick at the home of her parents near Morning Sun, Iowa. In the years that followed three children were born to them: Samuel B., Helen M., and Grace M. After his ordination Mr. and Mrs. Wilson sailed immediately for their chosen field of labor, reaching Asia Minor that fall. They began their work here in Mersine, associated with the Rev. C. A. Dodds and family. He was at home on furlough when the World War began, and after preaching in various places accepted a call to the Southfield, Michigan, congregation, and was installed pastor there November 22, 1917. He held this pastorate until January 20, 1919, when he was released to take up his work again in the Foreign Field. Early that spring he, with a large company of Near East workers, returned to Turkey, where Christian workers were so sadly needed. He and his devoted wife gave themselves unreservally where wreck and desolation made two hands seem so inadequate. Night and day they lived and labored on through the years 1921 and 1922 not even stopping for summer relaxation that is so necessary in that land. During the early part of '23, when Greeks were being evacuated, thousands of outcast refugees packed the streets and yards of this city and to these helpless ones he became a ministering servant. It was in this ministry of love that he was stricken with typhus, so partaking with them not only of their sufferings and labors and trials, but also of their sicknesses and of their death, for it was in this sickness that he died. He was taken from earthly horrors to Heaven's blessedness on a Sabbath morning, Feb. 18, 1923. There in that city where he had labored and loved and died, his body was laid to rest to await the resurrection The Captain and Marines of a United States Naval unit were in attendance at the funeral and accompanied the body to the cemetery. But another company, invisible to physical eyes, had already gone in triumph with his spirit into the presence of the King.

JOHN COLEMAN

John Coleman, son of Wm. John and Elizabeth (George) Coleman, was born Jan. 25, 1882, at Beaver Falls, Penn. He was baptized in 1882 by the Rev. R. J. George, D. D., pastor of the Beaver Falls congregation at that time. He united with the Allegheny Reformed Presbyterian Church, Pittsburg, Pennsylvania, in 1894, at the age of 12 years, under the pastorate of his own father, The Rev. W. J. Coleman, D. D. His early education was gotten in the Beaver Falls Public Schools and in those of Allegheny City. He also attended Allegheny High School, Pittsburgh Academy and Neff's College of Oratory, Philadelphia, Penn. His College work was taken in the University of Pittsburgh, graduating in 1904. Here he took first Honor Prize in the Collegiate Department and was Valedictorian. He also took First Prize in Oratory. He attended the Reformed Presbyterian Seminary in Allegheny, Penn., entering in the fall of 1904 and completing the course in the spring of 1907. Graduate work was taken in the University of Wisconsin in 1907 and 1908; in Columbia University (Summer School) in the years 1910 and 1918; in the University of Pennsylvania (Summer School) in the years 1913 and 1915. He was licensed to preach the Gospel by Pittsburgh Presbytery on May 8, 1906, and on September 2, 1908, was ordained to the Gospel Ministry by Ohio Presbytery at New Concord, Ohio, where he was also installed pastor at the same time. From 1909 to 1921 he was Professor of Philosophy and Psychology in Muskingum College, which is situated at New Concord, Ohio. In 1921 he was released from this charge and also gave up his teaching in this institution to take the Chair of Bible, newly endowed for Geneva College. He is now Senior Professor in the Department of Bible and Religious Education, a Chair established by money received from the Gailey estate. At the Synod of 1929 he was elected Professor of Reformed Presbyterian Apologetics in the Reformed Presbyterian Seminary, Pittsburg, Penn. He is carrying this work along with his college work. The year 1927-28 was spent in further special study looking forward to better fitness for service in his chosen calling. He received his M.A. from the University of Wisconsin in 1908, and the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity from Geneva College in 1926. On June 23, 1909, he was united in marriage with Miss Mary Grier Willson, of Allegheny, Pennsylvania, (now Pittsburgh). Five chilren have been born to them: Anna M., Mary E., Lois C., Rachel and Eleanor W. Mrs. Coleman, who had had extensive experience in college before her marriage, is giving about half time to teaching and was assistant in the department of Bible and Religious Education.

A. I. ROBB

A. I. Robb, son of James Kerr and Margaret (Scott) Robb, was born at Venice, Penn., July 11, 1865. His parents were born and reared in the Millers Run congregation, and in this church A. I. was baptised. He united with the Reformed Presbyterian Church at New Concord, Ohio, in 1883, Rev. Boyd of Utica, moderating the session. He received a common school education in New Concord, then attended Muskingum College of that same place for two years. Later, upon the removal of their family to Kansas, he entered Campbell University at Holton, Kansas, and graduated in July of the year 1889. He entered the Reformed Presbyterian Seminary in Allegheny (now North side Pittsburgh), Pennsylvania, in September of the following year and completed his Theological studies in that institution in the spring of 1894. He was licensed to preach the Gospel by Kansas Presbytery in the spring of 1893. He was ordained at Bovina, New York, July 5, 1894, and installed pastor of the Bovina congregation on the same date. He was released from this charge to go as a missionary to China, September 1, 1895. That same fall he sailed for China with the Rev. I. T. E. McBurney. They reached their field in safety and spent the next two years in Canton, China, studying the language and laying their plans for the planting of the first Reformed Presbyterian Mission in that great heathen land. He was in Hong Kong in 1897-98, and at Tak Hing from 1898 to 1921, when on account of impaired health he was compelled to give up the work to which he had devoted not only his whole life but his strength and his heart's love and devotion as well. Since that time he has been living, for the most part, on a ranch at Van Nuys, California, in the bounds of the Los Angeles congregation. While he is not able to return in person his heart is still across the sea and his prayers continually ascend. One daughter, Alice, has spent several years in her father's place in the China field, but is at present (1930) at home on furlough. One son, Remo, spent some years in the Levant field, and is now pastor of the Washington and Wyman, Iowa congregations, while a second son is in the Seminary preparing for the ministry. He was a member of the China Commission from the beginning. He was honored with a degree of Doctor of Divinity by Geneva College. He was made Moderator of Synod in 1913 at Winona Lake, Indiana. He has been married twice. His first wife was Sarah Ella Torrence, of Denison, Kansas. They were married June 26, 1895. She died November 16, 1903. His second wife, who is his faithful companion in his weakness, as in the service of the China field, is Janet Joanna (Campbell) Robb. They were married August 28, 1907, at Denison, Kansas. To the first union there were four children given: Elizabeth Alice, Remo Irwin, Joseph Kerr and George Mackay. One daughter Jean, is the ehild of the second marriage.

G. M. ROBB

Mac Robb, son of Andrew Irwin and Ella (Torrence) Robb, born March 17, 1903, at Tak Hing, China. He united with Reformed Presbyterian Chureh at Quinter, Kansas, in the year 1915. He attended grade schools in Denison,, Kansas, Topeka, Kansas, Quinter, Kansas and Greeley, Colorado. He graduated from the Morning Sun, Iowa high school in 1922. He then entered the University of California at Los Angeles, and graduated from that institution in 1928. He was taken under the care of the Pacific Coast Presbytery as a student of Theology and entered the Reformed Presbyterian Seminary in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, in September of 1928, where he is 1930. (Was minister at Syracuse, N. Y., and now is in Kansas City.)

REMO I. ROBB

Remo I. Robb, son of Andrew Irwin and Ella (Torrence) Robb, born at Hong Kong, South China, Oct. 20, 1899. His father is living near Los Angeles, California, retired from active service of the Mission work on account of impaired health. The subject of this sketch was sent to the home land for schooling and united with the Reformed Presbyterian Church at Denison, Kansas, at the age of 10 years September, 1910, under the pastorate of the Rev. D. H. Elliott, D. D. He attended the Common school at High Prairie, near Denison, Kans., and High School in Topeka, and Quinter, Kansas, graduating from the latter. He took his Freshman year of college work in Sterling, Kansas and the three following years in Geneva College, Beaver Falls, Pennsylvania, graduating June 4, 1921. He won Debate Medal in 1921, with victories on both sides of the same question and no defeat. He taught English and Bible in the American Academy of Larnaca, Cyprus, 1921,-23, and in Mersine, Turkey, 1923-24. He entered the Reformed Presbyterian Seminary in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania in September of the year 1924, and eompleted his Theological studies in that institution in May or 1927. He was licensed to preach the Gospel by Pittsburgh Presbytery May 11, 1926. He was ordained to the Gospel Ministry by Iowa Presbytery at Wyman, Iowa, Jan. 26, 1928, and installed pastor of the Rehoboth congregation of that place and of Washington congregation of Washington, Iowa, on the same date. He has a unique record in some respects. Though he is of average height and weight and looks like other ordinary people, as he says, there is this to relate: He was born of American parents on British soil in South China, only a few feet from French soil, and given an Italian first name. He crossed the Pacific Ocean three times before he was five years of age, and has since crossed the Atlantic Ocean two times. On January 4, 1928, he was united in marriage with Agnes May Steele, in Adams Room, Rittenhouse, Pittsburgh, Penn. In the fall of 1929 he received a call to the Seattle, Washington congregation, whieh he aecepted. (He is 1955 National Secretary of Young People, and Home Missions Sec. of the R P Chureh of North America.)

J. K. ROBB

John Knox Robb, D.D., son of James Kerr and Margaret Sarah (Scott) Robb, born Aug. 13, 1868, New Concord, Ohio. Both parents were reared in Washington Co., Pa. In the early years of life he moved with the others of his father's family to Kansas, near Denison, where he united with the R P Church, called at that time North Cedar. This was at the age of 17 years, Sept., 1885. The pastor at the time was Rev. J. S. T. Milligan. He attended the Grade Schools of New Concord, and took his preparatory work at Muskingum. His eollege work was taken in Geneva College, from which institution he graduated May 30, 1895. He won first prize for Soeiology Essay and second in Class Oration. He entered the Reformed Presbyterian Seminary in Allegheny (now North Side Pittsburg, Pa., in Sept. of the year of his graduation in college and eompleted the course Dec. 22, 1898. This mid-year graduation was brought about through the changing of the course from four to three years. He was licensed by Pittsburgh Presbytery Dec. 20, 1897. He was ordained to the Gospel Ministry by Colorado Presbytery at La Junta, Colo., Nov. 9, 1900, and installed pastor of the congregation in that plaee on the same date. He was released from La Junta, May 30, 1902, to take up work as a Foreign Missionary in the land of China. In the Fall of 1902

he went to Tak Hing, South China. There he labored for the most part along evangelistic lines rather than educational. In 1914 he carried a Memorial from the Board to the President of China, asking for a recognition of Christ in China's Constitution. He returned to the U. S. in 1919 and preached through the Church for some time. On March 28, 1922, he was installed pastor of the Princeton, Indiana, congregation. He was released from this charge Dec. 10, 1924, and has been preaching and acting as Home Mission Secretary of the Pittsburgh Presbytery.

On October 17, 1900 he was united in marriage with Maude Anna Lawson, of Lawsonham, Penn. Through these years she has been his companion and helper and has associated with him in his work at home and abroad.

They have four children: Neal, David, Joseph and Margaret. In the year 1920 he was honored with the degree of Doctor of Divinity from Geneva College, his Alma Mater. He was Moderator of Synod in Chicago, Ill., in 1916. On July 10, 1929, he was installed pastor of the Hetherton congregation, Hetherton, Michigan (1955). (He is retired and living at St. Joseph with his son, and has been most helpful in helping us to learn of the John family, (C1) or the eldest son of our first named Zaccheus, in this Family Tree,)

THE McCONNELL FAMILY by Z. G. Willson

As our family is intimately connected with the McConnells, we speak of them. (The Zaccheus section D6 and James F8 under Aaron E6), (John Biggar, a John Willson (C1) descendant married Eliza McConnell).

ADAM McCONNELL

A1 - Adam McConnell married and may have been born about 1751. He was first of the family we know of, was probably a native of Ireland, but must have come to this country about a hundred years ago (1858.) About the year 1770 or 1771,he removed west of the mountains and settled in the Forks of Yough about five miles from the settlement of James Willson, on the Yough river. Before moving west of the mountains, the family lived in York Co. and some of the family remained there.

Children:

B1—Daniel McConnell, remained east of the mountains and founded what is called McConnellstown—a flourishing town now containing some five or six thousand inhabitants. It is a county-seat. Many of his family still live in that region.

GILBERT WILLSON FAMILY

A—Gilbert Willson married (his wife was cared for by friends after his death.) Rich farmer in Glenvernock. Died in utter poverty from heavy fines exacted and courts were imposed, maybe died about 1688 or 1691, married about 1666

Children:

B1 - Margaret Willson, born about 1667, died April 13, 1685

B2 - Thomas Willson, born about 1669, went to war about 1690. When he returned from soldiering in the army of William of Orange there was nothing of his father's home to come to.

B3 - Agnes Willson born about 1672, died. Would have died with her sister Margaret 1685, except her father paid 100 pounds to spare her life from executioners.

THE MARTYR MARGARET

Rev. Geo. B. Hossack, Maybole, Scotland, in writing of Margaret Wilson in "The Evangelical Christian" of November, 1955.

A friend offered to take me for a motor run so that I might get to know the beauty of the local countryside. We took the road south to Bellantree, through Glen App, along the shores to Loch Ryan and Luce Bay, and finally over the Machers and into the old historic town of Wigtown. There I took the opportunity to visit the old churchyard and stood to pay homage at the tombstone erected in memory of the eighteen-year-old, virgin-martyr Margaret Wilson. I read the story of her heroism in two brief lines on the stone:

"Within the sea, ty'd to a stake,
She suffered for Christ Jesus' sake."

And I remembered the other memorial to the Wigtown Martyrs, erected in the High Church cemetery in Sterling, which bears the inscription:

"Many waters cannot quench Love;
nor can the floods drown it."

The fiercest period of long Covenanter persecution was in the years 1684-88. Those were the closing years of the struggle, when the fury of the oppressors reached a climax—so much so that those years are known in history as "The Killing Time", for obvious reasons. During this dark period the blood of the Covenanters flowed plentifully and continuously. Lord Macauley has illustrated the ferocity of the persecution by selecting the history of a single fortnight. Beginning with the story of the murder of John Brown, the "Christian Carrier" of Priesthill, he records nine martyr deaths in that brief spell. These were the days when, more than ever, the Covenanters were forced to flee to the moors and glens and caves for safety.

"SCOTTISH COVENANTERS" By Purvis

From character studies of "Scottish Covenanters" by Jock Purvis, Stirling Scotland, p. 53: What heart has not felt thankful for what they died to win—freedom to worship God. Before a very savage court, at Wigtown, April 13th, 1685, stood four female prisoners. They all had refused Prelacy and the oath of Abjuration which later made its swearer own the Church of God to be a department of the State. Their indictment was rebellion, attending of field meetings and meetings for worship within doors—twenty of each! Finding them guiltless, bestial Grierson of Lagg, a violent persecutor of the Covenanters ordered that they should receive sentence while on their knees. They refused to kneel, but were brutally forced to and were held down while sentences were pronounced upon them: Margaret MacLachlan, widow seventy years of age, to die by drowning; Margaret Maxwell, serving maid, twenty years of age, to be flogged publicly through the streets of Wigtown three days in succession, and to stand each of these days, for an hour in the stocks; Margaret Willson, farmer's daughter, eighteen years of age, to die by drowning; Agnes Willson, sister of Margaret, thirteen years of age, her father, Gilbert Willson, to pay 100 pound bond for her.

Margaret MacLachlan was of a manner of life Christ like and very highly esteemed by her fellow Christians. Patrick Walker says, "those of her intimates said to me that she was a Christian of deep exercise through most of her life, and of high attainments and great experiences in the way of godliness." She was much harassed by the persecutors, and one day, while she was upon her knees worshipping God with her family around her, a party of dragoons arrived, arrested her, and put her in prison, where she suffered much from want of food, fire and bed. She had not even light to read the Holy Scriptures. All her record is in these words, "Faithful unto death."

Patrick the Pedlar tells us also that when Margaret Maxwell was an old woman he talked with her, and she told him, "she was then a prisoner with them and expected the same sentence, but she was ordained to be scourged through the town of Wigtown by the hand of the common hangman three days successively, and to stand each day one hour in juggs (stocks). All which was done. But such was the cruelty of these days that all who retained anything of humanity toward their fellow-creatures abhorred such barbarity; so that all the three days that the foresaid Margaret was punished and exposed, there was scarce one open door or window to be seen in the town of Wigtown, and no boys or girls looking on. The officers and hangman enquiring if they should shorten the hour, she said, 'No, let the clock go on.' She was neither wearied nor ashamed. The hangman was very tender to her."

Margaret and Agnes Willson, daughters of rich Gilbert Willson, farmer in Glenvernock, had with their brother Tom, of sixteen years of age, refused to conform to vain religion. Searched for, they fled and lived among the wild mountains, bogs and caves, youthful, vagrant, holy things. Her father, Gilbert Wilson, of Glenvernock, is described in the Penninghame kirk session minutes as being "in good condition as to worldly things and with a great stock on a large ground." Both he and his wife had bowed before the storm and were most punctilious in their observance of Conformity. But even this did not save their children. The wind of the Spirit was behind the preaching of James Renwick, and in the touch of revival that visited God's people at this time, the younger members of the Wilson family appear to have made their own decision for Christ. Their parents were charged on their highest peril that they should neither house them nor give food to them, speak to them nor see them. The country people were ordered by law to pursue them. even as did the rude soldiery.

Their parents were yet to suffer much for the godliness of their children. For several years at a time as many as a hundred soldiers were quartered on them. Heavy fines were exacted, and courts were imposed, meaning a once a week horse journey of many miles which went on for three years, and Gilbert Willson died at last in utter poverty. His wife was supported and cared for by friends, and when Tom returned from soldiering in the army of William of Orange, there was nothing left to return to.

During February, the two girls left Tom among the snows of the mountains and came down secretly to see some of his friends in Wigtown, where someone asked them to drink the king's health. That they could not do they said, for it was not warranted by Scripture. They were recognized, and betrayed by Patrick Stewart professed to be a friend, arrested and thrust into prison in the Thieves Hole, as if they had been ferocious criminals. There they lay until their trial on April 13th, when with the widow and the serving-lass they heard their sentences, and judged it an honour to suffer for their Saviour's sake.

Gilbert Willson paid the heavy bond for his little Agnes, and set off on horseback to Edinburgh with an appeal for Margaret. But, by the time he returned, the sad tragedy had taken place, and she was where there is "no more sea."

HISTORICAL BACKGROUND

A word or two requires to be said to clarify the historical background. Following the deaths of Richard Cameron, the "Lion of the Covenant," and Donald Cargill, the unyielding Covenanters found a new leader in the stripling youth, James Renwick. In November, 1684, Renwick issued his "Apologetical Declaration" in which he not only reaffirmed the Covenanter principles but declared that the hunted hillfolks would not spare those who sought their lives. In this he was but following out the principles of Cameron's Sanquhar Declaration, wherin the stern Cameronians had finally declared war on a dissolute, godless and persecuting government.

Dr. Hector MacPherson tells us that when the government learned of Renwick's proclamation it "saw red" and "ran amok". Its official answer was given in the Oath of Abjuration which read in part:

"I do hereby renounce and disown the pretended declaration of war lately affixed at several parish churches . and I swear I shall never assist the authors of the said pretended declaration or their adherents in any way . "Local Justiciary Commisions were now elected with power to tender this oath to whole parishes and the Privy Council gave the official, cold-blooded instruction that those who refused the Oath, "being judged at least by three and they being found guilty, are to be hanged immediately in the same place." Then follows the further callous word, "Any women active in the said courses are to be drowned."

And now the hunt was on: the bloodhounds loosed. "The immediate result of these instructions," says Dr. MacPherson, "was a crop of summary executions which were simply wanton murders." Curates in the parishes were ordered to submit lists of known "disorderlies" i.e. those who refused to attend the state-dictated services or who frequented the Conventicles held by the ousted ministers. With much hesitation Andrew Symson, curate of Kirkinner, three miles south of Wigtown, showed no such hesitation in including the Wilsons on his list though these were but children.

The Commission which tried them was a notorious one. First was the bloody Grierson of Lag, known to readers of Sir Walter Scott's novels as Redgauntlet, "who was aye of the strong hand," and whose name made the blood creep long after he was dead and gone. Then there was Sheriff David Graham, own brother to the terrifying Graham of Claverhouse. With these were Major Winram and Captain Strachan, similarly known and feared. It is known that the Privy Council did prepare a reprieve for both the condemned prisoners, discharging the magistrates from carrying out the executions. Was this merely a provisional arrangement in the hope that the women would yet recant? We do not know. But the fact emerges that though the reprieve was drawn up on April 30th, yet both women were drowned on May 11th. There was ample time to put any such reprieve into effect but this was not done. Says MacPherson bitterly, "It seems to me that Lag and his colleagues, cruel and bloodthirsty men as they were quite fit to defy the Privy Council, well knowing that if they did so, nothing more would be heard of the matter."

By George B. Hossack

John Brown, the Carrier of Calvary, "Won Hame," on May morning. Next day, beneath the early summer sun, these two ladies of the Covenant, Margaret Willson and Margaret MacLachlan, were wrestling in their cruel heavy swellings of Jordan. They were summer and winter in the Glorious Cause, Margaret of the flaxen hair, and Margaret of the grey. From the darksome prisonhouse, the soldiers took them to the banks of the Blednoch Burn which fills with Solway from the sea when the swift running tide comes in. Two long wooden stakes had been fixed deeply in the bed of the burn. The farther out one, nearer to the oncoming waves, was for Mother Margaret; and the other, nearer to the land was for Margaret, the Maid.

We never read of any word the old saint spoke. It appears that, sick at heart and disappointed with madly cruel humanity, she turned to unending communion with the Lord. "It is needless to speak to that damned old bitch," they rudely cried, "let her go to hell," and they tied her roughly fast to her leafless but fruitful tree. So came the hungry waters up and up, every wave slashing death, until she was choking in their cold, cold grasp. As she struggled, before she became a poor limp thing lying in the swirling flood, they said to young Margaret, "what do you think of her now?" "Think! I see Christ wrestling there," she said. "Think ye that we are sufferers? No, it is Christ in us, for He sends none a warfare at his own charges."

The waters were now around her, and she began to sing a plaintive melody she had often sung among the hills when the fellowship of the hunted worshipped God. In it the young heart communed with the most High. It was Psalm 25 from the seventh verse:

"My sins and faults of youth
Do Thou O Lord forget:
After Thy mercy think of me,
And for Thy goodness great.
God good and upright is:
The way He'll sinners show;
The meek in judgment He will guide
And make His path to know."

To the Covenanter the Bible was the visible earnest of the New Jerusalem, "that great city, the Holy Jerusalem, descending out of Heaven from God, having the glory of God: and her light was like unto a stone most precious, even like a jasper stone, clear as crystal." Her treasure with her Margaret Willson opened it up for the last time, to see the precious jewels there. She read aloud from the eight chapter of Romans, in full assurance of faith of Glory soon to be. "Whom He justified them He also glorified"; and, convinced of His thoroughbearing to His Praise, "we are more than conquerors through Him that loved us. For I am persuaded that neither death nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor powers, nor things present, nor things to come, nor height, nor depth, nor any other creature, shall be able to separate us from the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus our Lord." The cold waves dashed over her head. Loosely tied, the soldiers pulled her out of the water, and, they asked her to do what the Covenanter could not do—pray for the King, "as he is supreme over all persons and causes, ecclesiastic as well as civil," a blasphemous usurping of the prerogative of Christ as Head of the Church, an arrogant claim which no Covenanter would admit. "Pray for the King," they cried! She murmured that she wished the Salvation of all men, and the damnation of none. They dashed her under the water and pulled her out again. "Oh, Margaret, say it," pleaded some. "Lord give him repentance, forgiveness and salvation, if it be Thy Holy Will," she whispered. Grierson of Lagg, in wild, impatient passion cried, "Damned bitch, we do not want such prayers. Tender her oaths." She groaned, "No! No! no sinful oaths for me. I am one of Christ's children. Let me go." And they brutally flung her back into the waters, where she died a virgin martyr of eighteen summers.

Their dear dust lies in Wigtown Old Churchyard. It is but a few yards from where they died. The dust of several other martyred Covenanters lies near them.

Two echoes of the Wigtown tragedy underline the truth that "God is not mocked", and that "whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap."

Dr. Ratcliffe Barnett tells how, for many years after the crime, a broken man might be seen haunting the streets of Wigtown. The townspeople, and especially the children, avoided him, and where ever he went he carried with him a vessel of water, for he was plagued with an unquenchable thirst. This man was the town officer. On that sad day in May when Margaret Wilson had refused her final chance of life, and had been thrust back under the waves, this man had offered the final indignity to the girl by forcing her head under the water with his halberd, and holding it there with the brutal words, "Tak' anither drink, hinny."

And there is a further echo. For on the 8th July. 1704, another broken man appeared before the Kirk Session at Wigtown pleading for permission to once more partake of the holy sacrament. This man was Bailie McKeand. With deep humility he "declared the grief of his heart that he should have sitten on the sieze of these women who were sentenced to die .. in the year 1685," and he told how for the following 19 years he had besought God for the gift of true repentence and forgiveness for his sin.

GUARDED U. S. GRANT

Copied from Evening Bulletin, Philadelphia, Pa., Mar. 18, 1929.

GUARDED U. S. GRANT
BEFORE VICKSBURG
Aged Veteran Who Saw Gen. McPherson Killed Comes to Live With Son Here. Recalls Philadelphia Dinner.

After sixty-five years, James Renwick Wilson, a veteran of the Civil War, remembers the meal given to Union soldiers by the women of Philadelphia when he passed through the city one night in the winter of 1864 on his way to join Sherman in his march to the sea.

Of the city itself he recalls nothing save the enthusiasm of the welcome and the meal - chicken, sweet potatoes, Irish potatoes, turnips, pound cake and pie. Philadelphia, he says, has lingered in his mind along with other memories of the War of the Rebellion, as a symbol for good cooking.

Mr. Wilson, now eight-six, came to Philadelphia recently from Olathe, Kansas, to reside with his son, the Rev. Findley M. Wilson, 2410 N. Marshall St., pastor of the Third Church of the Covenanters, Franklin and Dauphin Sts.

On his brief visit to Philadelphia Mr. Wilson relates: "I had been wounded and was returning to active service with a party of about 300 men. We were on the train several days and were pining for a good meal. We were marched to a large hall, where ladies of the city had prepared one. It was one of the pleasantest memories of the war."

Mr. Wilson, who is a grand-nephew of James Renwick Willson, famous chaplain of the War of 1812, enlisted in the 78th Ohio Infantry, at Zanesville, on Hallowe'en night 1861, and served to end of the war, attaining the rank of Lieutenant. Three brothers also served with the Union forces, an elder brother being killed at the battle of Shiloh.

At the siege of Vicksburg he was detailed as a sharpshooter, as part of the guard thrown around the staff of General U. S. Grant, and recalls seeing the General visiting various positions of his line.

"General Grant passed my post on several occasions, always walking alone, and invariably with an unlighted cigar in his mouth." Mr. Wilson said. "He gave one the impression of being in deep thought and seemed an unusually quiet and detached man. General Lew Wallace, author of 'Ben Hur', was my division commander before Vicksburg.

"During the fighting around Fort Donelson, in Tennessee, General Logan mounted on a roan horse, was directly in the rear of Mr. Wilson's company during an advance. A bullet struck General Logan's horse and carried away part of the animal's mane, but did not seriously injure it. General Logan swore with rage, and jumped from his mount. Turning to his orderly, he said: 'Here, take this animal out of here before it gets badly hurt.' Then he walked out in front of our company and led the charge on foot."

Mr. Wilson speaks of the day of General McPherson's death as "the bloody 22nd of July." General Hood, a Confederate commander, during the night, circled to the rear of McPherson's division, and his riflemen caught the Union force between a cross fire.

"The fighting was the hottest when the Confederates attacked a thicket occupied by our men," said Mr. Wilson. "General McPherson hurried to that point on his horse, accompanied by his orderly, a twelve-year-old boy. A bullet killed him almost instantly, and what followed was one of the strangest things I have ever seen.

"General McPherson's orderly, this twelve-year-old boy, dismounted and stood there holding both animals while Southerners swept around him. Our men drove them back in a hand-to-hand fight, one of our standard-bearers saving the colors by beating off several of the enemy with his fists.

"During the melee, the Southerners ignored the General's orderly standing at the head of the two horses. I am convinced that they saw he was just a child, and were too manly to molest him."

During the day's engagement, Mr. Wilson's company, 100 strong, suffered seventy-eight casualties. His fortune was a "Minnie" ball which pierced his left shoulder, and lodged in his back, close to his spine. The bullet was not located until twenty-five years ago, when an X-ray revealed its position. It is still there.

ABOUT JOHN MILLER WILLSON

He practised in Colfax, Iowa where he was health officer from 1903 to 1905. He was a member of the national state and local medical societies and was a Fellow of the American Medical Assn., the Academy of International Medicine and American College of Cardiology. He was State Anaesthesia Assn., chairman of the Pasadena Hospital staff, president of the Pasadena of the Los Angeles County Medical Society and councilor of the latter named organization. He was a member of both the American and California State Heart Assns.

Dr. Wilson was active locally, being a member of the University Club of Altadena and in W W II he served the local Draft Board in making heart examinations.

For years Dr. and Mrs. Wilson engaged in foreign travel, their numerous trips with their family serving to furnish relaxation as well as giving the doctor time for study and writing. Dr. Wilson was the author of "The Clinical Value of Electro-cardiograph," "The Electro-cardiographic Study of the Various Forms of Heart Block" and other articles published in International Clinics.
